How Long Will Ho Chi Minh Keep the Truce Line?

Larry Allen, Pulitzer Prize correspondent of the Associated Press, covered the Indo-China war for more than two years from Saigon and Hanoi. Recently he went to Singapore where he could write without regard to censorship.

BY LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (AP)—Peace is coming to Indo-China by the simple device of splitting Viet Nam in two. That leaves millions of persons under Red rule, unless they choose to flee, and raises the question of just how long Ho Chi Minh will be content with just northern Indo-China.

With the cease-fire line drawn near the 17th parallel, about half of Indo-China's 26,000,000 people and the big rice bowl of the Red River delta with its tremendous resources of salt, coal, iron, phosphates and cement will fall under Red control.

The Vietminh also get the "Maginot line" of Indo-China, the long network of concrete—reinforced, heavily gunned bunkers atop the mountains around Tien Yen, 40 miles southwest of Moncay. The line was finished two years ago to repel any Chinese or massive Viet-Minh attack toward the seaport of Haiphong.

This is not all. The Vietminh also get what they might call "victory." Ever since the war started every French commander has said—and Western diplomats and even the Vietminh have agreed—that "whoever holds the Red River delta holds all of Indo-China. As the delta goes so goes Southeast Asia."

Under the cease-fire the Vietminh will get the delta. The cease-fire provides that the French evacuate enclaves covering the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong within 300 days. How long Ho Chi Minh might contain himself within the truce line is anybody's guess—unless further Communist moves are stopped by a new Southeast Asia security alliance or similar arrangement.

But Viet Nam leaders do not believe Ho Chi Minh will stay long put. Nguyen Huu Tri, until recently governor of north Viet Nam, once told correspondents in Hanoi: "even if one province is given to Ho Chi Minh as the price of peace he will take all of the country as soon as he can."

Back of the inability of the war-weary French to score a decisive victory in the long war lies the big factor of non-co-operation from the Viet Namese masses. The hearts and sympathies of the most Viet Namese have always been with Ho, who never lost his identity as a symbol fighting for his country's independence from France.

Florence Chadwick's Day

Hi! We were talking about television the other day, and for some reason I started thinking about my old TV pal, Muggsy.

Muggsy isn't a gangster or a boxer, as his name might imply. He's a chimpanzee and a highly intelligent one, at that.

The little fellow is part of an experiment in that he is being brought up exactly like a human child. He wears children's clothes, sleeps in a proper bed, feeds himself at a table, using knife and fork; plays a saxophone and obeys orders perfectly. You may have seen him on Dave Garroway's program.

The last time I saw Muggsy was when I appeared on the Fred Allen show. Muggsy had to make three or four fast costume changes and like a small child, he became fussy and started fidgeting and whining.

One of his handlers lost patience and gave Muggsy a little slap on the face. The poor little fellow looked at the handler and his eyes filled with tears. He cried just like a little baby, putting his face in his hands.

A little while later, someone told him to "say hello to Florence." He came up to me, put his arms around me and gave me a big hug.

Speaking of television, I believe I hold a couple of TV records.

The first one, I doubt if it will ever be broken, was an 18-hour appearance without speaking one word. That was when they televised me swimming Catalina Channel. No talk, no commercials, just swimming.

The other record was when I appeared on 19 different programs in one day.

It was in aid of the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund, that raises money to send underprivileged children to summer camps. I would appear on one show, hop a cab over to another studio and make another appearance. I started with Arthur Godfrey at 9 a.m. and wound it up at 3 a.m.

Once when I was on Ken Murray's show, he got a little flustered and said, "Thank you, Gertrude Ederle."

Being just a little peeved, I said, "You're welcome, Milton Berle."

Third City Hostelry Gets Liquor Permits

The James Bay Hotel has been granted a dining room and lounge license, Liquor Commissioner Col. D. McGugan announced today.

The dining room license will be awarded immediately, while the lounge license will be withheld until renovations are completed. James Bay Hotel was the third hostelry in the city to receive a lounge license.

To Free Americans

GENEVA (AP) — The Chinese Communists have agreed to release six Americans held in Red China, the United States delegation to the Geneva conference announced today.

$3 Million for Island Roads

Gaglardi Reveals Big Program For Highway, Bridge Building

Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi today revealed details of a $3,200,000 highway program for Vancouver Island.

In an exclusive report to the Victoria Times, Mr. Gaglardi outlined the complete 1954-55 road-building plans prepared by the provincial works department.

Alberni—$332,000.
Comox—$744,868.
Cowichan-Newcastle—$368,419.
Esquimalt—$374,578.
Saanich—$244,000.
Nanaimo-Islands—$637,840.

Some $500,000 of the total is reserved for construction of two underpasses near the Thetis Lake cut-off on the new Island Highway outlet, and construction of the Colquitz River bridge on the Trans-Canada Highway.

In addition, 15 miles of roadwork on the Island Highway in the Ladysmith-Nanaimo, and Burnside-Goldstream areas is underway, and tenders will be let Friday for another 4.41 miles in the Nanaimo-Wellington area.

ESQUIMALT WORK

Esquimalt riding will get hard-surfacing on Fisher Road, Cobble Hill Road, south; Aral, Kelly, Sunsit and Goodrich Roads and Skookum Gulch Revision, West Coast Road.

On Gillespie Road, appropriation has been made for removal of dangerous corners, graveling of 3¾ miles and repair of CNR overpass. Renfrew Road will receive an $8,000 gravel face-lifting; Metchosin Road will be reconstructed for one mile, and Rocky Point Road will be reconstructed for 2.5 miles between Kangaroo Road and East Sooke Road.

Wednesday Store Opening Riles Butcher

Vancouver Man Defies New Law

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Bert Robinson, operator of two downtown butcher stores, vowed he would keep his shops open all day today "unless I'm forcibly lugged off to jail."

Robinson's action came as all-day Wednesday shopping started in most of Vancouver's large department stores, closed Wednesdays since 1942.

Butcher shops were not eligible to remain open all day today because the majority of them did not petition city council for six-day shopping. They were allowed to be open only Wednesday mornings under present regulations.

Robinson said he would make a test case of the issue.

He said he was in competition with downtown department stores "and if they are going to stay open I should be able to."

SEAWAY POWER DWARFED?

Rothschilds Interested In $1 Billion Project

LONDON (CP) — The House of Rothschild, famed British banking firm, confirmed today that it is investigating the possibilities of constructing a huge power plant at Grand Falls, Labrador.

A spokesman for the 180-year-old firm said surveys are being made at Grand Falls on the Hamilton River, roughly 550 miles northeast of Quebec City.

The investigations are being conducted by the British Newfoundland Corporation, a 1½-year-old firm based at St John's. The corporation is backed by a group of British banks and industrial firms, headed by N. M. Rothschild and Sons.

The spokesman said the corporation has a concession for power development at Grand Falls from the Newfoundland government, and holds certain mineral and timber rights in Labrador.

He declined to estimate the cost of the project but said it is hoped that between 1,000,000 and 3,000,000 horsepower can be harnessed.

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Star said Tuesday that construction of the world's largest power development is in prospect for Labrador.

The paper quotes Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the International Joint Commission, as saying the development at Grand Falls would have an installed capacity of 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 horsepower. This compares with estimates of 1,100,000 horsepower Ontario expects from its St. Lawrence River development. Cost may run to $1 billion.

Judge Rules Out Sensational Evidence at Trial

PERCE, Que. (CP)—Sensational evidence, which resulted in a perjury charge against one witness, was ruled inadmissible before a jury today in the murder trial of Wilbert Coffin.

Mr. Justice Gerard Lacroix ruled that no testimony given Tuesday by Jean-Guy Hamel, described by police as a self-styled private detective, and two officers of the Quebec provincial police could be admitted into court as evidence before a jury.

Hamel, 29, swore in the witness box Tuesday that he did not give police information regarding the case of Coffin, charged in connection with the gruesome deaths of three Pennsylvania bear hunters in the Gaspe wilderness a year ago. He was charged with perjury almost immediately.

U.S. Stands Aloof From Peace Signing

Big Evacuation Job Faces French

With the signing of the cease-fire in Indo-China France faces job of evacuating an estimated 100,000 civilians and thousands of troops. Among soldiers to be evacuated will be the 22nd Algerian Tirailleurs, shown above on their recent arrival in the war theatre.

7-Year War Ends In Quiet Ceremony

From UP and AP Dispatches

GENEVA — France and the Communists signed a cease-fire for Indo-China today, with the United States standing coldly aloof on the sidelines.

U.S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith refused to sign a nine-nation declaration setting forth terms of the agreement designed to end the seven-year war in Indo-China as quickly as the Reds can notify all their scattered units—expected in 10 days.

The U.S. under-secretary reiterated the U.S. pledge that it will "refrain from the threat or use of force to disturb" the agreement, but making clear U.S. dissatisfaction, he said:

"The United States reiterates its traditional position that peoples are entitled to determine their own future and that it will not join in an arrangement which would hinder this."

The cease-fire will leave the world without a "hot" war for the first time in 20 years.

The agreement successfully climaxed French Premier and Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France's pledge to end the conflict in 30 days from the time he took office and France rejoiced at the end of the long, bloody and costly conflict.

The Communists were openly jubilant over an unquestioned Red victory, and Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill cabled his congratulations to Britain's Anthony Eden for his mediation efforts. The British believed the terms were the best obtainable.

But Smith's attitude was cold.

"As I stated on July 18, my government is not prepared to join in a declaration by the conference such as submitted," Smith said.

Reds Attack French Defense Post

In Washington, President Eisenhower told a press conference the United States will not use force to upset the Indo China cease fire, although it contains "features which we do not like."

In Indo-China itself, the Reds launched a major battle today at the French defense post of Chu Buoi, 13 miles south of Tourane, the atom bomber and naval base below the cease-fire line. French forces beat back the 1,600 Red attackers in a five-hour fight which may prove the last major encounter of the war.

But Communist military leader said the fighting will go on, in isolated pockets, for as much as 10 days. It will take that long, they said, to notify isolated units in remote areas that the war has ended.

The East-West agreements will neutralize a divided Viet Nam and prevent the establishment of foreign military bases in Laos or Cambodia.

Final terms of the agreements were published here today at the final session of the nine-station conference after 75 days of exhaustive negotiations. Separate cease-fires for Viet Nam, the main battleground for the last eight years, Laos and Cambodia were signed earlier in the morning.

The declaration embodying the final terms did not specifically employ the term "neutralization." It revealed, however, that the Communist and democratic halves of Viet Nam will not be permitted to join any military alliances or agree to the establishment of foreign military bases on their soil.

Gen. Smith told the final session that his government would regard any renewal of aggression in violation of the Indo-China settlement "with grave concern and as seriously threatening international peace and security."

Smith submitted a unilateral declaration separate from the agreements reached by the other eight conference participants—Britain, France, Russia, Communist China, the Vietminh Communists, Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who presided at the final session, said the agreements were "the best that our hands could devise" and added "all will now depend upon the spirit in which those agreements are observed and carried out."

Viet Nam Divided Pending Vote

The agreements divide Viet Nam at its 40-mile waist roughly along the 17th parallel pending elections throughout the state within two years.

Like Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia are forbidden to have foreign military bases on their soil. They are also barred from joining any military alliances "which do not conform with the United Nations charter."

The final settlement said French forces will be allowed to remain in all three states unless any of the governments ask for their withdrawal.

A brief French declaration promised at the same time that France would observe the territorial independence, sovereignty and integrity of all three Indo-China states.

For Premier Mendes-France, the settlement represented a tremendous triumph. He had lived up to his pledge on taking office June 18 to gain peace by July 20 or quit.

With power unmatched since Gen. Charles de Gaulle ruled the wartime coalition, Mendes-France is now in a position to push through sorely needed economic reforms in France as well as lead his wavering nation to a decision on the European Army next month.

No sooner had the cease-fires been signed this morning than the chief conference delegates began centring their attention on the problem of Europe.

Mendes-France, in a farewell visit to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, was reported to have discussed European security. Later, Smith called a meeting with Eden and the French premier to discuss various European issues.

The cease-fire agreements for Viet Nam and Laos were signed before dawn today. A last-minute technical hitch prevented the Cambodia truce from being signed until later in the morning.

This morning's simple signing ceremony, under a blaze of photographers' lights in the home of the League of Nations, called a halt to an eight-year war of blood and sweat in which 92,000 soldiers of the French Union expeditionary corps died or disappeared.

It also laid a Korea-like partition across the 42-mile-wide waist of Viet Nam, Indo-China's largest, richest and most populous state, about at the 17th parallel of latitude.

Communist leader Ho Chi Minh will take over the destinies of the residents north of the line. The 10,000,000 Viet Namese south of the partition will live under the pro-Western regime of chief of state Bao Dai.

City Opinion Split on Pact In Indo-China

Peace Hailed But Prestige Seen Lost

Victorians contacted today on reactions to the cease-fire pact in Indo-China showed a sound grasp of the issues involved, but expressed sharply opposed views as to the ultimate outcome of that country's partition.

Following are sample statements:

ROBERT STEWART, summer school student, 2115 Fernwood: "I think the compromise in Indo-China was a distinct loss to western prestige, but I'm glad to see the war ended. People everywhere are sick and tired of fighting."

KULDEEP SINGH, travel bureau manager, 2630-A Douglas: "I think the peace pact is a very good thing, but fail to see why there couldn't have been peace there long before this. What a waste of money and blood. It is the best news of the year."

BETTY SMITH, beauty parlor operator, 833½ Fort: "It's about time the people had a government they want. There was too much colonialism in Indo-China, as elsewhere. France should have pulled out of there a long time ago. The west has poured money into aiding France there, but what would they do for us if we were in a spot?"

REV. W. LEMMENS, St. Andrew's Cathedral: "There is no doubt that partition there is a defeat of the west at Communist hands. The Geneva group had no right to sacrifice the people there to a Red regime (by partition) when they have trusted in France for so many years."

MISS ELSA NIELSEN, nurse, 1340 Sussex Street: "When the end of fighting comes I always feel happy. As a nurse I see too much suffering as it is."

SINCE ETHIOPIAN INVASION

World Is Free of Wars First Time in 20 Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The end of the shooting in Indo-China will mark one of the few periods that the world has been free of full-scale war since Dec. 9, 1934, when Mussolini's Italian troops clashed with Ethiopian soldiers on the frontier of disputed Somaliland.

By the time the Ethiopian fighting ended May 5, 1936, Hitler had broken the Locarno Pact by sending troops into the demilitarized Rhineland. The Spanish Civil War raged from July 17, 1936, until March 28, 1939. Elsewhere in Europe, Nazi troops already were on the march. Germany declared war on Poland Sept. 1, 1939, and the Second World War was on.

Ho Chi Minh's Communist-led Vietminh forces rose against the French garrison at Hanoi Dec. 19, 1946, touching off the Indo-China war only 12 days before peace with the Axis Powers was proclaimed.

There is still not full peace. Mounting unrest in North Africa has forced France to rush troop reinforcements to Tunisia and Red-led guerrillas fight on against the British in Malaya.

'Features We Do Not Like'—Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, commenting on the Indo-China cease-fire agreement, said today he does not believe the Communists want war at this time.

Eisenhower said in a formal statement at his press conference the agreement "contains features which we do not like but a great deal depends on how they work in practice."

He said the United States is working actively with other free nations to organize rapidly a "collective defense in Southeast Asia in order to prevent further direct or indirect Communist aggression in that general area."

'Overcame Many Difficulties'—Eden

GENEVA (Reuters)—British Foreign Secretary Eden told the final session of the Indo-China conference today that the agreements on a cease-fire were "the best that our hands could devise."

"All will now depend upon the spirit in which those agreements are observed and carried out," Eden, who was presiding, declared.

"We have now come to the end of our work.

"For a number of reasons it has been prolonged and intricate. The co-operation which all delegations have given to your two chairmen—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov shared the chairmanship with Eden—has enabled us to overcome many procedural difficulties. Without that co-operation we could not have succeeded in our task.

"The agreements concluded today could not in the nature of things give complete satisfaction to everyone."

Ask Delay in Applying Cease-Fire

HANIO, Indo-China (AP) — Reliable reports reaching here today said the Indo-Chinese Communists have asked for three to 10 days delay in applying the Indo-China cease-fire.

The Reds were said to have told the French it will take that long to advise their scattered troops to stop shooting.

Warns Against Cutting Aid to Asia

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) warned Congress today against cutting U.S. aid to Southeast Asia just because of the new truce in Indo-China.

He said the "Munich" settlement opens the way for more Red conquests and "sharpens up the need" for assisting other nations to build the free world's defenses.

Canada Still Awaits Formal Invitation

OTTAWA (BUP)—A formal invitation to Canada to join India and Poland in an international supervisory commission for Indo-China still was awaited today but a cabinet meeting was called for Thursday.

It's about time one of our cops scored a decision over a citizen.

★ ★ ★

As I understand it, the way to get "Peace" is to hand everythin' over to the Reds.

Mendes-France Faces New Trouble Shooting

France's 'Man of the Hour' Will Strive To Settle Differences in North Africa

PARIS (AP)—Signing of a cease-fire in Indo-China started a new era today for a France which at last has found a do-something leader in Premier Pierre Mendes-France.

The agreement to end the ruinous war 8,000 miles from home was greeted with almost universal satisfaction. The French felt it was done without losing honor or cutting the bonds of friendship with the United States.

Mendes-France, a man without a political machine and virtually unknown outside France as recently as a year ago, accomplished in 30 days what 19 previous postwar premiers had failed to do.

The grumbling that could be heard came from supporters of the last government, headed by former Premier Joseph Laniel.

They complained that Mendes-France only concluded a settlement for which they already had traced the outlines and that in doing so he had "gone too far."

Little stock was placed in the utterances of the dissidents, specially in view of Washington's decision to ride along with Mendes-France.

But the grumblings indicated Mendes-France would have to overcome dangerous opposition in the National Assembly next month when he hopes to win adoption of his North African, economic and European army policies, in that order, by the deputies.

Mendes-France made North Africa his next target because, with the Indo-China war over, terrorism in Tunisia and Morocco will possibly become the world's No. 1 trouble spot.

North Africa always has been Mendes-France's private preoccupation, however, and sources close to his office said he would spell out his program on the French protectorates there within 48 hours after returning from Geneva.

Mendes-France was known to feel strongly that France again will face revolt unless it forms a new partnership quickly with the Arab majorities in Tunis and Morocco.

'FLU SWEEPS BIG PRISON IN GUATEMALA

GUATEMALA CITY (AP)—An influenza epidemic is sweeping Guatemala's central police prison, threatening 2,000 Communist suspects packed there like sardines.

Authorities said scores of the prisoners already have the flu. About 100 others are said to be suffering from dysentery and 20 from malaria. The situation is described as serious.

A hospital has been improvised on the second floor of the building, and the Red Cross has been asked for help. The jail is described as seriously lacking in light, air and sanitation facilities.

Unemployment Up 100 Per Cent Over June, 1953

OTTAWA — More than twice as many Canadians were looking for jobs in June this year as were seeking work last year, the labor department and Bureau of Statistics said today in a joint statement.

Unemployment fell during the month, but not as markedly as it did in the May-June period last year.

Of the total labor force, 185,000 persons were looking for work. This figure compared with 217,000 in the previous month, and 90,000 a year ago.

Canada's employment rolls increased by 100,000 during June to the year's high point of 5,171,000 at June 19.

The employment figure was 101,000 higher than the number working on May 22, but 1,000 less than the corresponding figure of 5,172,000 on June 20 last year.

Regional figures for persons looking for work through the National Employment Service June 17, with bracketed comparisons for May 20, 1954, and June 18, 1953:

Atlantic region, 35,355 (47,411—25,977); Quebec region, 92,774 (115,839—63,051); Ontario region, 100,659 (110,230—48,150).

Prairie region, 36,541 (48,239—19,064.

Hidden Atom-Weapon Stocks Threaten Eisenhower Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—France split away from her western allies today on the value of elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch's plan for control of atomic weapons.

The French viewed the U.S.-endorsed Baruch blueprint as obsolete as the 12-nation U.N. disarmament commission called a meeting to receive the report of two months' fruitless discussions on disarmament in London by a five-nation subcommittee.

A full-dress debate was expected, with delegates attempting to get some degree of agreement on which to report to the General Assembly when it meets Sept. 21.

French delegate Jules Moch, a recognized authority on disarmament questions, indicated the unlikelihood of such an agreement Monday on his arrival in New York from Paris.

"I think all old plans are a little obsolete when you wait until a stock of A-bombs has been built up and easily camouflaged," Moch said. "It is difficult to control the past. The future may be easier, but the longer we wait, the less confidence we have in the old plan—and that is true of all the old plans, not only the Baruch plan."

The General Assembly has endorsed the Baruch plan three times, but Russia has opposed it on the ground that it infringes on national sovereignty.

KIDS GIVE HOME CHEMISTRY REAL WORKOUT

'Phony' Silver Pennies Get Quick Return

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn movie theatre manager Albert Greene was flooded today with silvery pennies. Half of them he said, were "counterfeit."

Greene is the man who agreed, at the U.S. treasury's behest, to recall 24,000 chromium plated pennies he distributed in protest against the city's new five per cent amusement tax.

Greene offered to buy back each chrome penny, paying two regular coppers for it.

The neighborhood young fry promptly turned to home chemistry.

Of some 1,500 silvery pennies Greene bought back he found 836 were "phonies."

Greene got the help of a local druggist and evolved a test. From now on, said Greene, he'll pay two cents each for only his own "genuine" chrome-plated pennies."

Ted Booth, district TCA manager, will address Victoria Lions at their regular meeting Friday at noon in the Empress Hotel. Subject of his talk will be "Air Service Out of Victoria."

B. C. CHERRIES:

The crop has turned out slightly better than expected. Main cherry supplies will last only another week to ten days.

B. C. APRICOTS:

Quantity shipments of B.C. APRICOTS are just starting. The season will last about the normal length of time, but there will be no "special preserving season", due to the reduced size of the crop.

PEACHES
PLUMS
PEARS
FRESH PRUNES

Good supplies of all these flavorful B.C. Preserving fruits will be available. (See table below for approximate starting dates).

WHY GET LESS THAN THE BEST?

Because B.C. Fruit is grown closest to the Western Canada market, it can be left on the trees until it is more mature—for HIGHER SUGAR CONTENT, FINER FLAVOR, BETTER QUALITY.

And because Western Canada is the number one market for B.C. Fruit—you can be sure of the very best that is available . . . if you insist on B.C. Fruit.

The "grown closest to market" prices of B.C. Fruit mean greatest economy too!

. . . and coming up—B.C. PEACHES—a good crop of excellent quality. For finest preserves and fresh fruit desserts you can't beat B.C. PEACHES—be sure to wait for them!

U.K. Minister Quits After Furore Over 725 Acres of Land

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON (Reuters) — Agriculture Minister Sir Thomas Dugdale announced his resignation to a surprised House of Commons Tuesday after manfully admitting responsibility for the failure of his ministry to return requisitioned land to its private owners.

The embarrassed resignation on his 57th birthday spelled the end of his political career and climaxed a long battle between government bureaucrats and private citizens.

In 1937 the air ministry expropriated 725 acres of land at Crichel Down for a bombing range. The owners didn't like it but had no choice. In 1949 the air ministry had no further use for the land so turned it over to the minister of agriculture. He turned it over to the land commission. The original owners or their successors applied to buy it back. They were brusquely refused. The land was equipped at some expense as a separate farm and leased to a tenant who had no previous connection with the property.

The ensuing furore resulted in the appointment of a Royal Commission of inquiry and led to hot and angry debate not only in the House of Commons but practically everywhere else. The Royal Commission found no trace of corruption or dishonesty in the affair but said the minister in making his decision had been substantially misled by his senior civil servants as to the facts.

The civil servants responsible have been reprimanded but tradition demanded the resignation of the responsible minister.

In his final "confessional," Dugdale said Sir Winston Churchill's government had no intention of hogging farm land suitable for private ownership.

VOTE HELD

The deputy Labor leader, Herbert Morrison, called for a vote on the issue after Dugdale had made his announcement, citing "administrative incompetence" and a change in agricultural policy as grounds for a ballot.

The government won the vote 297-to-266, but the victory had no effect on Dugdale's plans to resign.

Churchill may take advantage of the resignation to shake up his cabinet which has served with only minor changes since he took office in October, 1952. Among those who might return to private life are Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton, Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton and Defense Minister Earl Alexander.

Parliamentarians expect Dugdale's job will go to Food Minister Gwilym Lloyd George. His post lost its importance with the end of food rationing this month.

900 MILLIONS UNDER COMMUNIST INFLUENCE

—LONDON (Reuters) — Communist party members throughout the world total fewer than 30,000,000, latest figures published in Moscow indicate.

Yet, under Communist sway today are countries totaling more than 900,000,000 persons. They include the 200,000,000 of the U.S.R.R. and the 600,000,000 of China.

Today there is not a single country in the world without Communist movement—legal or illegal—says a booklet called "The Agitator's Notebook," issued by the central committee of the Soviet Communist party.

PUC Delays Hearing On Higher Bus Fares

Victoria Probe Put Back to Aug. 5 At Request of Interested Groups

The Public Utilities Commission has acceded to requests to postpone a public hearing scheduled in connection with B.C. Electric's application for increased fares and a reduction in bus service.

The Victoria hearing, originally set for July 29, has been moved to Aug. 5. The hearing will be conducted in the Empress Hotel.

Vancouver hearings will be held Aug. 9, 10 and 11 in the Vancouver Courthouse.

Groups which protested the earlier dates included Vancouver city council. It was claimed the original dates did not allow sufficient time for preparation of briefs.

In the meantime, B.C. Electric is preparing to have company officials attend municipal council meetings throughout Greater Victoria this week and next, outlining the company's position and answering questions with respect to the application.

Tuesday, E. W. Arnott, B.C. Electric's Vancouver Island vice-president, met the Greater Victoria transportation committee at City Hall to discuss the company's plan to effect an 8 per cent reduction in bus mileage.

The press was barred from the meeting. It was learned afterward a further meeting will be held next week.

The Victoria branch of Superannuated Federal Civil Servants has recorded its opposition to any increase in transit rates. It has asked the Public Utilities Commission to refuse the company's application and to make public B.C. Electric's financial status as it relates to Vancouver Island.

The superannuated government workers passed a resolution saying that they and all pensioners were "quite unable to pay higher fares."

The group argues against the increase on grounds it has not been shown that the company is losing any considerable amount in Greater Victoria, and that when the 10-cent cash fare was introduced, the company had given assurance there would be no further request for an increase for a considerable number of years.

2,500 Attend Showboat Performance

Scottish Artists Well Received

A crowd of 2,500 persons turned out Tuesday night to see showboat presentations in the Inner Harbor—the largest crowd since concerts started July 16.

Main attraction was showman Phil Harris, who didn't arrive. He didn't show for the show as tentatively scheduled because he hadn't yet arrived in town.

Baritone John Dunbar was an efficient master of ceremonies, and both he and soprano Ruth Champion sang traditional Scottish songs. Other participants included Ronnie Chisholm, Jamie Troy and Jeannie Burns, and young dancers from the Adeline Duncan school.

The showboat's next outdoor offering will be Friday evening, amateur night, and some 10 acts have already been auditioned. Guests Friday will be Let's Dance Club members who will execute waltzes and Mexican cavortings.

Variety night Saturday will feature square dancers and popular music by Vern Bryant and his quartette, with Gloria Berry providing the vocal.

Of the 131,000 aircrew graduated under the Commonwealth air training plan of the Second World War, nearly 73,000 were RCAF personnel.

QUARTET FEATURED AT PARK

The quartet, "Betts and Her Buddies," will be featured in the guest spot at tonight's B.C. Electric band concert, scheduled for Beacon Hill Park at 8.

Selections from the operetta, "Maid of the Mountains," will be included among numbers presented by the orchestra.

DEC. 19, 1946

This Is How Indo-China War Started

WASHINGTON (UP) — On Dec. 19, 1946, the French garrison commander at Hanoi sent a note to Red rebel leader Ho Chi Minh's headquarters in the same city.

The Frenchman said he saw disturbing signs fo an impending uprising by Ho's forces and reminded the rebel leader of an earlier truce accord.

About 5 p.m. on the same day the messenger returned with a note from Ho which said in effect:

"Please don't be concerned. There are hotheads in any camp. But I am in control of those on my side. However, I suggest that French soldiers not be allowed on the streets tonight. I am sorry to hear about the illness of your wife. I am sending flowers."

Five hours later at 10 p.m. rebel gunfire shattered the stillness.

The Indo-China war had begun.

U.S. Views Indo-China Peace Pact As Smashing Victory for Reds

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The negotiated end of the war in Indo-China is generally regarded in U.S. circles as a victory for the Communists and a defeat for the Free World.

It halts a direct billion-dollar-a-year drain of money and arms from the United States.

But it also creates an urgent need to shore up non-Communist areas of Southeast Asia which will almost certainly impose new burdens on the U.S. and its allies and absorb some or all the Indo-China savings.

U.S. government officials have been talking with French leaders for several weeks about getting out of Red areas all arms and equipment with which French and native anti-Communist forces have been equipped. It is understood that the French have given assurances this will be done.

COLLECTIVE DEFENSE PACT

It was learned meanwhile that the American and allied governments are planning shortly to issue declarations of intent to form eventually a collective defense for Southeast Asia and warning the Communists not to undertake any new aggression in that area. Such action has been discussed with a number of friendly governments, and reports today were that it has been substantially agreed upon.

U.S. officials studying the Indo-China settlement signed early today said privately that its impact will reach far beyond Southeast Asia and probably will be felt throughout the whole range of relations between the Communist and non-Communist blocs.

POSSIBILITIES SEEN

Here are some of the potential results which they think may develop:

Red China: Authorities here expect that the French government, having succeeded in ending the Indo-China war, will soon recognize the Communist China regime as Britain has done. This is expected to increase pressure for eventually seating Red China in the United Nations over U.S. opposition.

European Defense Community: Premier Mendes-France has promised to place the EDC treaty before the French assembly for a vote prior to adjournment next month. But French opposition to German rearmament under this proposed pact remains strong. Also, it may be considerably boosted by a feeling that the ending of the Indo-China fighting will lessen the danger of Communist assault on Europe.

Russian diplomacy: The Reds are expected to play even more loudly the role of crusaders for peace, citing their willingness to negotiate a settlement at Geneva as evidence of sincerity. This likely will make a big impression in Europe and even more in Asia.

Even Victoria's Weather Just a Bit of Olde England?

By JACK SMITH

LONDON (AP)—Britons are sleeping under blankets this summer. Plenty of blankets.

While North America roasts, pretty young things in England are wearing autumn coats. Many a manly chest is encased in a woollen sweater. Landladies of seaside guest houses are going broke for want of business.

The English are pale-faced this July. You can pick out the American travelers in Piccadilly Circus by the color of their skins.

It's been like this most of the season. Cold, cloudy and rainy. The number of clear, warm days could be counted on the fingers of one hand. Daytime temperatures have been mostly in the low 60s. Once the thermometer slumped to 46. Once it shot up—to 75. But that was just a teaser. At night the reading have been in the low 50s.

The hay harvest in west Wales is only half-completed. In dozens of Welsh churches, pastors and congregations have prayed for sunshine and warm weather.

Excepting farmers and business people in resort towns, Britons don't complain too loudly. Among some there is even an undercurrent of pride in the weather this freak summer. It may be lousy, but it's English.

The Price of Electricity

ON ITS OWN FIGURES THE B.C. Electric appears to have an unanswerable case for increased bus fares in Victoria. It says it is losing something like a quarter of a million dollars a year on its transportation system. These losses are recouped out of electric light rates. Why should the electrical users continue to subsidize the bus users—especially when electric light rates already are high and have steadily advanced of late years?

But the local bus rate dispute is only a small part of a much larger problem and mainly significant because it illuminates that problem.

The B.C. Electric is a private company in legal fiction, but not in fact.

To begin with, it is not subject to the competition of private companies. It is a monopoly and must be a monopoly since two or more private companies cannot operate power or transportation services in the same cities and streets.

Secondly, its rates, quite properly, are not fixed by competition, as there is none, but by the state, through the Public Utilities Commission. And every household within its area must pay for all the company's operations, willy-nilly, since there is no alternative electrical supply.

In fact, therefore, the B.C. Electric is a public institution largely, though not entirely, under public control through its rate structure.

That rate structure tacitly guarantees the B.C. Electric a reasonable profit on its operations, a state of prosperity which will enable it to borrow huge sums for necessary expansion.

The final test of any corporation's health is the value of its stock on the open market, which expresses the judgment of unprejudiced investors, risking their own money. By that test the B.C. Electric is highly prosperous. Its stock has substantially increased in value by the judgment of the market. The stock option recently offered to some of its officials, for example, is now worth much more than it was when the option was introduced.

Given its present able management, its rich monopoly in the larger cities of British Columbia and a tacit guarantee of profits by the state, why should the B.C. Electric not be prosperous? And that is how it should be, especially when it needs to borrow money to expand its services in growing communities.

It is prosperous beyond doubt but the consumers of electricity and the users of busses must wonder where the process of raising costs and then raising rates to cover them will end.

Whenever the B.C. Electric raises its costs, through wage increases or otherwise, it immediately applies to the Public Utilities Commission for an increase in electrical or bus rates or both. In general it receives about what it asks for because it demonstrates its need, to the satisfaction of the Public Utilities Commission.

So far as busses are concerned, the company is deeply concerned about its rates, for if they are too high less people will use busses. The law of diminishing returns reduces business and revenues. That law has little effect on electricity. Most industries and every home must use electrical power, no matter what the cost. Hence the company has no serious reason to worry about its electrical rates. If its costs rise it can always be sure of covering them by an application to the Public Utilities Commission for higher rates.

Thus the company has far less incentive than any ordinary business to keep its costs down. Of late years they have been increasing sharply, always at the cost of the consumer. With this virtually automatic assurance of reasonable profit, it is no wonder that the market rates B.C. Electric stock so high. It knows that in the end the consumer will pay whatever the Public Utilities Commission orders him to pay.

Electrical rates travel on a kind of legal merry-go-round, in an ascending spiral. The public, rightly or wrongly, seems to think them too high. It is almost impossible for the layman, however, to get the facts, for they are highly complex. The Public Utilities Commission is notably reluctant to discuss them, or to tell the public here whether its rates are higher or lower than those in comparable territory elsewhere.

How do our rates compare, for example, with those of the Ontario Hydro, or of the public power systems in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and in the United States?

This may seem to be a simple question to answer but is not. Publicly-owned systems do not pay the corporation taxes levied on the B.C. Electric and taken from the electrical users. Again, the cost of installing electrical works and maintaining them varies greatly between one region and another.

Only experts can sort these figures out. It is high time that the Public Utility Commission sorted them out in British Columbia, compared our rates with others on a fair basis and, if possible, assured us that they will not continue to advance whenever the B.C. Electric raises its costs for its own purposes.

This is not a matter of concern only to the public. It must and no doubt does concern the B.C. Electric. For if this merry-go-round process continues much longer the demand for public ownership of power undoubtedly will become irresistible in the practical politics of British Columbia.

Music and Flowers

THE IMAGINATION AND ARTistry which combined first class music with the floral beauty of Butchart's Gardens has been appreciated during the last two seasons by thousands of Victorians and visitors.

The concept was inspiring. The way in which performances have been conducted has left little to be desired by the music lover.

Tomorrow evening another of the Victoria Symphony's presentations are scheduled. The series will be completed for the year with a final concert on July 29.

Those residents of this community who have not yet enjoyed the joint treat of appropriate selections by an excellent musical organization in the unequalled setting of Benvenuto should mark the events on their calendars.

The international reputation of the Gardens has been greatly enhanced by the programs. They are occasions that merit the largest possible attendance.

Midsummer Night's Dream

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I picked up one of those rather pathetic things, a magazine for writers. You know the sort of thing . . . "stimulating" articles by blokes who have never done an honest day's writing in their lives . . . theories on how to sell manuscripts, by chaps who wouldn't be wasting time writing such articles if they really knew how to sell anything.

And the advertisements! "I can write and I can sell, so let me teach you how."

Brock

All these things remind me of the little bulletins got out by share-pushers and stock-market counsellors . . . if these financial experts could really make money on the market as a sure thing, why would they be peddling their little bulletins?

But the little magazine did contain one short article that fascinated me, in a morbid way. It said that the big modern newspaper doesn't carry so much poetry as it once did. In fact, it seldom carries any. Further, it doesn't want to, and it laughs at the idea of paying for mere verse. What, then, can the poor bard do?

THE answer (says the article) is simple. What interests a big daily most? Crime, scandal, and love. All right, then, what the poet must do is to write some scandalously frank love lyrics. In other words, dirty 'em up. No editor could resist them (says the article). I have my doubts. But it is, as I say, a fascinating theory. The old imagination boggles, it really does.

Picture Daddy coming home from the office, the Daily Glare under his arm. "What's new, Daddy?" cry the children. "Nothing much," says Daddy. "Pootle the Poet has a new lyric, though. Very suggestive indeed." Throwing the comics into the fireplace, unread, the children dive for the new poem. Mouthing the words, they read a little poem that manages in 10 lines to combine anatomy, abnormal psychology, exhibitionism, and heaven knows what else. Heaven knows, and Freud knows, and the reader knows. It is something like Kinsey set to music. "You know, that man's really got something," says the high school daughter. "Got something?" says Daddy. "Yes, I'd say he's got senile. He's also got rich."

TALKING of highly emotional reading of the worst sort, I have just seen an advertisement for a book called "Emotional Difficulties in Reading," by one Beulah Kanter Ephron (what fun to make up titles like that, and to make up authors' names like that too). In reviewing this book, one Norman Lewis said: "It is the most tremendously exciting contribution to the field of reading improvement that I have ever seen." It sounds very much to me as if Norman was getting a bit emotional himself. Watch it, Norm.

RESEARCH

AND talking of science and the emotions, I have here a newsletter which is sent me regularly by the Harvard Foundation for Advanced Study and Research. (They think I'll get so excited I'll send them money. They err). Among four thickly printed pages of news about the doings of the professors and the advanced students, I came across an item that charmed me all to bits. One of the professors of psychology has just got back from a year in England, where he not only observed the behavior of British birds (Comparative Psychology, you know?) but observed bird-watchers as well. No fooling. Here is the exact wording: "The particular object of his trip was to observe birds and bird watchers at work . . ."

MOST of the time, I am glad that I never became a professor. I have seen too many good ones become embittered and too many bad ones become pleased with everything, especially with themselves. (These results are not inevitable, but they are far too common.) But if I were to be a professor, I think I'd like to be a professor of psychology studying bird-watchers. Guessing at their motives, and guessing them all wrong, and writing a tremendously exciting contribution to the field of bird-watching.

I could write a whole chapter on the home-life of the bird-watcher . . . why he is in no hurry to get home to his wife, and so on. In fact, there would be three chapters on this: one on the man, one on the wife, and one to determine whether their independence of each other is a cause of bird-watching or an effect.

CITY

WHY do the weather reports on the radio (CBC, anyhow) refer to the forecast for "Victoria City" instead of plain "Victoria"? Are the meteorologists afraid we will think they are referring to the State of Victoria, in Australia? Or to Victoria Falls in Africa, or the enormous lake there? I think not. I have a feeling they wish to make it plain that they are predicting the weather inside the city limits only. They do not include Oak Bay weather or Esquimalt weather.

Turmoil Among the Tories

By V. J. MACKIE from Ottawa

BEHIND the scenes the Tory party is in a turmoil. Manifestations of the discontent and disgruntlement that have had a corrosive effect on the Progressive Conservative organization even before the British Columbia revolt are indicated in a demand by the Toronto Telegram that George Drew call a national convention.

Mackie

The Telegram, for years a staunch supporter of the Progressive Conservatives, is plainly worried over disunity apparent within the party's ranks. It points, in a recent editorial, to the recent events in British Columbia and the election of Duff Roblin as the party's leader in Manitoba as signs of the dissatisfaction that is dividing the Conservatives. The Toronto newspaper states emphatically:

"A national convention at an early date will afford the party an opportunity to close it ranks, to endorse policies, to clear the air, to reaffirm confidence in its leadership, or if it deems necessary, to choose another leader. . .

"For Mr. Drew the question is this—either to carry on as at present being the leader of a party lacking cohesion, or by means of a convention, place a united party behind its leader. And if that united party reaffirms confidence in him he will indeed be a leader with strength."

LEADERSHIP RIFT

The editorial was based on a dispatch from the Toronto Telegram's Ottawa bureau, which reported that despite the unanimous vote of confidence recently given to Mr. Drew, "it is apparent that a rift is developing within the Progressive Conservative party over his leadership." The Ottawa dispatch said such a rift if allowed to continue could lead to an unhealthy situation.

In an effort to revive the party's organization across Canada, George Hees, the handsome new president of the National Progressive Conservative Association, has embarked on a barnstorming campaign from coast to coast.

It is no secret that the Telegram was a strong advocate of Mr. Hees for president of the PC's national association. Mr. Hees' bid for the presidential post was opposed by older elements within the party. His subsequent victory was hailed as a defeat of the "old guard." Mr. Hees would probably agree with the Toronto Telegram that a national convention is needed to dispel the "nebulous cloud of dissatisfaction" and make the Conservative party solid and united.

ATTACK ON DEAD WOOD

In his rebuilding program, Mr. Hees is determined to chop out the "dead wood" and sweep out the "cobwebs" encumbering and enveloping the Tory organization in some parts of the country. He was delighted with the election of 37-year-old Duff Roblin as leader in Manitoba. Mr. Hees is convinced that what the party needs as much as anything is able young men, eager and anxious to tackle the task of reorganizing. Obviously he expects to be able to count on Mr. Roblin if there is ever a showdown in the future with the remnants of the Tory old guard hibernating in Toronto.

Naturally Mr. Drew as the national leader looks with some misgivings upon such ambitious young men who are advocating shakeups in the organization. Nor is he enthusiastic about the suggestion that he call a national convention at which the question of his leadership would be raised for reaffirmation. Mr. Roblin's speech at Winnipeg last December, in which he criticized the leadership of the party at all levels, has not been forgotten here. Mr. Roblin has explained that he was thinking of the Manitoba situation when he spoke, but his speech was interpreted in the press as an attack on Mr. Drew as much as the Manitoba leadership. Consequently the Toronto Telegram, erroneously perhaps, has identified the Manitoba leader as a member of the party's faction advocating a national convention.

The Toronto newspaper too attaches considerable importance to the rift in the party in British Columbia, now apparently beyond repair.

OTTAWA JOURNAL VIEW

In the federal capital the Ottawa Journal, regarded as having the ear of Mr. Drew, has been critical in its editorial columns of suggestions that the national leader was to blame for the weak position of the party. It has championed Mr. Drew and denounced those whom it regards as "sniping" at him from within the party's ranks. Like the Telegram, the Journal wants to see a strong, united Conservative organization. But unlike the Telegram, the Journal is convinced that Mr. Drew enjoys the confidence of his followers and requires no further endorsement than the unanimous vote of confidence he received at the annual meeting this spring.

Seemingly even newspapers that support the party cannot agree on a cure for what ails the Conservatives.

'Scientists Must Speak Up'

Nobel Prize winner Dr. Albert Schweitzer's opinion of the H-bomb, and the part scientists must play in the crisis it has created, are printed below. The item is reproduced from The Saturday Review, where it appeared in letter form covered by an explanatory note from Dr. Schweitzer's American editor, Eugene Exman, of Harper and Bros. book publishers.

THE problem of the effects of the H-bomb is terribly disturbing, but I do not think that a conference of scientists is what is needed to deal with it. There are too many conferences in the world today and too many decisions taken by them.

What the world should do is to listen to the warnings of individual scientists who understand this terrible problem. That is what would impress people and give them understanding and make them realize the danger in which we find ourselves.

Just look at the influence Einstein has because of the anguish he shows in face of the atomic bomb.

It must be the scientists, who comprehend thoroughly all the issues and the dangers involved, who speak to the world, as many as possible of them, all telling humanity the truth in speeches and articles.

If they all raised their voices, each one feeling himself impelled to tell the terrible truth, they would be listened to, for then humanity would understand that the issues were grave.

If you and Alexander Hadlow (the professor who has pleaded for a United Nations conference of scientists on the H-bomb) can manage to persuade them to put before mankind the thoughts by which they themselves are obsessed, then there will be some hope of stopping these horrible explosions and of bringing pressure to bear on the men who govern.

But the scientists must speak up. Only they have the authority to state that we can no longer take on ourselves the responsibility for these experiments, only they can say it.

There you have my opinion. I give it to you with anguish in my heart, anguish which holds me from day to day.

With my best wishes and in the hope that those who must advise us will make themselves heard.

As Our Readers See It

MISLEADING?

Is not one of your columnists making rather a misleading statement when she states that there are not many people left in Canada of "British and French stock" and the bulk of the remainder "congregated in Victoria"? This is misleading at least to new Canadians of European origin who naturally are not as well versed in Canadian history as we of the aforesaid stock "congregated in Victoria" and who are well aware that from Halifax to Victoria are many people of English, French, Irish and Scottish ancestry who are building up Canada as their fathers did before them.

GLENGARRY

THE FLAG QUESTION

Once more we are treated to one of Mrs. Marshall's amusing, if not convincing letters. As to the flag, is not the ensign on which the armorial bearings of each province are equally displayed representative of all Canada?

For myself I prefer the Union Jack before all others. I was born under it, and hope to die under it. Most of my life has been spent in Canada, and all my interests are here.

I hope that we shall soon have the statue of Queen Victoria placed in a prominent place here, and that the unveiling will be marked by an appropriate ceremony.

The chief reason why this flag agitation never gets anywhere is that the younger generation is not behind it. On Dominion Day I noticed that the YMCA, which is representative of the youth of Canada, flew the Union Jack, and that emblem decorated the bicycles of our younger generation.

Slamming the Door on Rebuttal

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND from Washington

THE U.S. CONGRESS SEEMS TO be perpetually having trouble with its investigations.

The methods of the McCarthy investigation have brought bi-partisan demands for corrective reforms.

And now the Reece Committee inquiry, ostensibly to determine whether the big tax-exempt foundations, such as Carnegie, Rockefeller, Ford, are operating within the terms of their charters and within the law, has blown up in its face.

The committee, having run out of adverse witnesses, is closing down its public hearings without giving the favorable witnesses the public opportunity to reply.

The committee has spread onto the public record the most extravagant accusations, with the words "subversive," "conspiracy," "plot" and "un-American" being tossed about with abandon, and is slyly shutting up shop without allowing rebuttal from the same rostrum.

UNPROVED ASSERTIONS

The "explanation" which Representative B. Carroll Reece, R., of Tennessee, the committee chairman, gives for adjourning the public hearings at the point where the foundation witnesses were to testify, is that Representative Wayne L. Hays, a Democratic committee member from Ohio, engaged in "obstructionist" tactics.

Representative Hays' "obstructionism" consisted of an unwillingness to take at face value the unproved assertions which came from selected witnesses and staff "experts." One witness thought that Pope Pius' encyclicals were communistically-inclined. Mr. Hays insisted on searching cross-examination and this seemed an awful offense to Chairman Reece. It was spoiling the whole show and he evidently decided that it was wiser to end the public hearings rather than have their emptiness further exposed.

It is certainly reasonable for the Carnagie Corporation to protest, as it did this past week, against the unfairness of the Reece Committee in denying the foundation the right to reply publicly before the committee to charges made publicly before the committee.

It would be reasonable for the Ford Foundation to demand that the Reece Committee either prove the grave charges of "subversion" and "un-Americanism" it has publicly made against the foundation or publicly acknowledge that they are without basis.

These are understandable exasperations when confronted by such tactics but what is important is that the philanthropic foundations have won the substance, if not the form, of full exoneration.

"PLOT" TALK

Chairman Reece had a scheme to try to show that most of the nation's domestic legislation and most of its foreign policy (from Roosevelt through Eisenhower) was a "plot" and "conspiracy" by a little group of educators and philanthropists, and the sudden dismantling of the public hearings in mid-gutter is ample confession:

That these meat-ax charges were not being proved to anybody's satisfaction and that the public was quickly on to it.

That the attempt to show that the Foundations were engaged in "subversion" and "un-American propaganda" was falling to the ground even before the Foundations were invited to reply.

That the committee's technique of broadcasting its conclusions before taking any testimony and then hoping to find some facts to justify them had discredited the investigation.

That editorial opinion across the country — most of it Republican — was at least 90 per cent critical of the Reece Committee and that the committee has scurried to cover.

There was a ridiculous incident the other day when I was strap-hanging, standing up in an underground train, and I was asked four times between Notting Hill Gate and Piccadilly Circus for my autograph on a morning newspaper, while sitting below me was Mr. T. ALL THINGS CONSIDERED

By STUART KEATE

Claude or Victoria?

MRS. Sonria Humphry, a peppery businesswoman of these parts, 15 years removed from the British Isles, is up in arms about the move to import Queen Victoria's statue here from Dublin.

Keate

"The Irish," she told me yesterday, "are clever people. I know, having studied there at Trinity College school. They are virtually making a career of exporting worthless statues.

"I know the Queen Victoria statue well. In fact, it was the regular custom of Nationalist college students to adorn it, in moments of revelry, with certain bedroom utensils.

"Believe me, it is an abomination—the second worst statue in Great Britain." (The very worst is so bad that there will be no attempt to describe it here, except to say that its buttons are all backwards.)

Mrs. Humphry recalls that Augustus John, the noted portrait painter, once remarked that Queen Victoria was obviously a plain woman, and that on those grounds if no other the statue had at least the virtue of accuracy.

But Mrs. H. is disturbed by one thought. When she left the British Isles, she believed she was putting the statue—an offence to her artistic eye—safely behind her. Now that the news of Victoria's offer has broken in the British press, friends of hers in the Old Country who know of her aversion to the monument are writing her needling letters, suggesting that it was her influence which started the move, and that she really wants the thing all to herself.

"Please do something to stop it," she begged.

Mrs. Humphry holds, and this corner agrees, that it's time Canadians began thinking about statues to its own great. No such monument exists in Victoria today. None for Emily Carr, for instance, who deserves it perhaps more than any other British Columbian; none for Amor de Cosmos, the greatest politician we have produced; none for Sir John A., the only prime minister in our history who represented Victoria in the House.

This line of discussion opened up some fascinating possibilities. Why should we import Queen Victoria when there are obviously so many distinguished candidates close at hand?

The mayor, for instance. Now there's a subject for bronze immortality. What a picture he would cut, atop some granite in Beacon Hill Park!

Picture the rebellious lock of hair, falling on a brow worthy of a Roman senator. Imagine the flow of the cape. Conceive if you will the outstretched arms, one pointing to Ottawa (the 1883 Terms of Union) and the other to San Francisco (the boat service, you know).

I suggested this to Mrs. Humphry, but she did not immediately warm to the idea. "No," she demurred, "I think some refinements are needed. You should create a weather-vane atop the mayor's head. This would clearly demonstrate which way the political winds are blowing."

* * *

I doubted whether this conception would be agreeable to His Worship.

"Oh," Mrs. Humphry replied, "Claude and I are old friends. We just don't happen to be speaking at the moment.

"But I do believe he would be better than Queen Victoria. If that happens—look out! I'm spoiling for a fight!"

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Brucellosis

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Women come in hoping that now that they have been told that their many years of ill-health were all due to brucellosis, this can be cured, and then they will be well.

Dr. Alvarez

Usually, they are unhappy and disappointed because the man who diagnosed the chronic brucellosis could not help them with his medicines. Often I find that the woman has been to some enthusiastic doctor who says that, in his practice, he keeps seeing cases of brucellosis every week.

During my many years of consultant practice I have seen dozens of these cases, and practically never, with all the facilities of a great and fine bacteriologic laboratory at my disposal, could I get any evidence to satisfy me that chronic brucellosis was what the patient had. Nine out of 10 of the women had what they called "fever," but a little study showed that it was the one-degree rise which many highly nervous persons often have toward the close of a tiring day. Experts on the subject believe it is normal for them, and should not be called a fever. Certainly in most cases, it is useless to try to "cure it."

My friend, Professor Hobart Reimann, watched many such persons closely for years, and found, as I have done, that they never developed any serious illness. Some of them were certainly born with a tendency to have a temperature a bit higher than what others have, just as some of us were born to be much taller or stouter than other persons are.

I have seen a number of women who, when in my office, and anxious as to what I would say, ran their temperature up as high as 102.5 degrees. I know a man who, whenever he blows his top, has a temperature of 102 degrees for the rest of the day. I remember a woman who had a temperature of 102 degrees for four days after her father was operated on, and while she was very anxious about him.

A girl, a perfectly healthy college student, during her routine entrance physical examination, was found to be running a temperature over 100 degrees. She had this watched all through college and for years afterwards, but she never became ill because of it. Apparently, it was normal for her.

Today, all experts on brucellosis point out that the disease is derived usually from handling infected cattle and hogs. Hence it is that nearly all of the persons who get it are men: they are veterinarians, farmers, ranchers, and workers in slaughter houses.

In the old days a few persons could get brucellosis by drinking much milk from cows with a diseased udder, but now that most milk is pasteurized, this danger has been greatly lessened.

The only man I can remember seeing with definite brucellosis was a farmer who, with a cut on his hand, reached into a sickly cow to bring away the afterbirth. He had good reason to get brucellosis. But when a woman who has always lived in a city and who has always drunk pasteurized milk comes with what looks like a little fever, and when her blood shows no sign of infection, I do not diagnose brucellosis.

I am not saying that all the diagnoses of brucellosis in highly nervous city women are wrong: what I am saying is that the bacteriologists at the Mayo Clinic could rarely find any definite sign of this disease in the cases in which, because of a slightly supposed fever, this diagnosis has been made by a home physician. Today, the diagnosis seems largely to have gone out of fashion because I am now seeing so few women who have been told they have the disease.

Many persons used to say to me, "But the doctor found that my blood agglutinates the germ, showing that I have the disease." The trouble with this argument is that the blood of all of us reacts to some extent, and hence the only reports that are worth noting as suspicious are those which were made with the blood diluted perhaps 150 times.

Some enthusiasts still trust to a skin test for brucellosis, but I think experts all agree now that this is not trustworthy. All it means is that perhaps, at some time in the past, the person came in contact with the Brucella organism.

The only sure proof of the presence of brucellosis is the finding in the blood of the living germ. But, curiously, even this finding does not always prove that the patient's symptoms are due to brucellosis. There are many curious cases on record in which living Brucella organisms were found in organs removed at operation. Apparently they were slumbering there and causing no symptoms. Usually, when the living germs are found, the patient, a man, is running a temperature of 102 degrees or so, and is pretty sick. He has the acute form of the disease.

Naturally, after an unhappy and always uncomfortable woman has been going the rounds from doctor to doctor, being told that all she has is nerves, it is solid joy to find a doctor who says immediately, "No; this isn't nerves: those doctors all missed the boat; you have chronic brucellosis, and have had it all these years." Naturally, she just loves this doctor. But, then, she finds perhaps that most of the patients in his waiting-room are being treated for brucellosis, and that makes her wonder.

Later, after months of treatment for the disease have not made her any less nervous or miserable, she goes to someone else hoping that he has medicine powerful enough to kill the Brucella.

CITY'S WEATHER RECORD

Sunshine, 1954	1162.8 hrs.
Last Year	1083.2 hrs.
Precip. to Date	15.40 ins.
Last Year	17.07 ins.

SYNOPSIS — A ridge which has moved onshore over the southern coast has brought decreased cloudiness with the promise of a slight rise in temperature. Cool air still lingers over the southeastern interior and showers will be frequent in that area today. Northern sections of the province are still showing below normal temperatures along with considerable cloudiness.

A weak disturbance nearing the northern coast will be steered mainly through the Yukon and into the Peace River area with only a weak southern extension of the system crossing B.C. today and overnight. This will give varying degrees of cloudiness over the province but in general a slow trend to more sunny and warmer weather is looked for in the next two days.

DOMINION PUBLIC WEATHER OFFICE 9 A.M. FORECASTS

Toronto Calls in Rockefeller Foundation to Study Schools

TORONTO (BUP)—Metropolitan Toronto, where the cost of education this year will take 67 cents from every tax dollar, called in the Rockefeller Foundation today to survey primary and secondary school requirements. (Victoria's schools require 23½ cents of the tax dollar).

Since April, 1953, 27 new schools have been built and additions made to 44 others.

Educationists here thought the survey would result in a recommendation that an official be appointed to determine whether future school construction should include such frills as auditoriums, swimming pools and home economics classes.

Eddie Robinson's Son Faces Charges Of Armed Robbery

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Edward G. Robinson, Jr., 21, as if playing a scene from one of his father's tough guy movies, darkly hinted today that he had been framed on charges of holding up two taxi cabs.

Young Robinson, who has had several scrapes with the law during the past two years, was released from jail Tuesday on $10,000 bail posted by his father. He bitterly denied the two armed robbery counts against him.

Cab drivers Michael Piasick and Harry Chernack said they were positive that young Robinson was the one who held them up June 25 and July 1. Piasick said he was slugged over the head and robbed of $27. Chernack said he was relieved of $11.

The actor's son also has been arrested on a drunk charge and on a bad cheque charge, which was dismissed.

Mrs. Roosevelt Denies Charge By Admiral

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says it's ridiculous to contend that her late husband knew in advance of the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

Admiral Robert Theobald, in his recent book, "The Final Secret of Pearl Harbor," wrote that President Roosevelt knew of the attack and failed to notify military commanders in Hawaii.

In her regular column in McCall's Magazine, Mrs. Roosevelt writes:

"I am quite certain my husband did not know about Pearl Harbor in advance.

"Notification to the people in the field would have come from the military generals anyway, and not directly from my husband.

Private Firm Plans To Develop Cemetery In Nanaimo District

City Left Without Adequate Burial Ground, Suburb Protests Plan for Beban Park Site

NANAIMO — Cedar Valley Memorial Gardens, a property of 67 acres that caused bitter accusations in city council here last winter, is ready for full-scale development as a private cemetery.

Its opening date is some weeks off, however, and in the meantime Nanaimo has no adequate cemetery. The present site was filled to capacity in June.

J. W. Hagel, managing director of the new development, said Tuesday that between three and four acres will be landscaped with trees, shrubs, and flowers.

The site overlooks Nanaimo River, and once was known as the "McVicar" property.

Nanaimo city held an option on the property a year ago when Ald. Miss Elsie Hall headed a cemetery committee. Later, however, it was decided the site was too far from the city for a cemetery, and the option of $200 was forfeited.

Full-scale verbal battles raged through the council while alderman searched for a suitable site, and Mayor George Muir was warned that the existing cemetery would be filled to capacity by the end of June.

In a hurry to establish a suitable site, a 40-acre property at Wakesiah Avenue and the Island Highway within the city limits, was selected, but ratepayers turned down a $55,000 by-law for its purchase June 10.

A second cemetery committee only recently recommended a 20-acre portion of the city-owned Beban estate as a cemetery site, but Northfield residents complained, and at present are circulating a petition protesting the "high-handed manner in which Northfield has been treated by the city council."

TOP SCHOLAR on Vancouver Island, outside of Greater Victoria school district, is Gwyneth Mary McArravy, 525 Aldorann Avenue, Nanaimo. She receives a $225 Chis Spencer Foundation award and a $175 general proficiency scholarship from UBC for attaining an average of 88 per cent in university entrance examinations conducted throughout the province in June. Carpenters Urge Control Of Builders

DUNCAN — Legislation for stricter control of the licensing of general contractors in British Columbia is the aim of the District Council of Carpenters of Vancouver Island and Powell River.

At its annual meeting held here during the week-end, the council decided to ask city and municipal councils to take action through the Union of B.C. Municipalities to secure the legislation.

The parley was closed to the press.

Victor H. Midgley, Victoria, special representative in B.C. for the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, said the legislation to be sought was to protect citizens against unscrupulous operators and prevent "jerry-built" structures.

BONDS POSTED

The carpenters favor the system in force in Edmonton, where all persons doing carpentering and allied trades are forced to post a bond to ensure top-grade work. The council was told of many cases where the public had fallen prey to unscrupulous operators.

The council elected Frank Enright, Duncan, as its 1954-55 president. E. H. Oliver of Victoria was elected vice-president, and J. G. Trebett of Port Alberni returned as secretary-treasurer.

Al Haines of Victoria was named a board member, and H. Biggs of Victoria a trustee. A. Leam of Victoria and A. Lovett of Duncan were returned as trustees.

Miss P. M. Baker Will Judge Show

LANGFORD—Miss P. M. Baker will be judge at the rabbit show to be held in conjunction with Langford community fair, July 30-31.

Mrs. A. Merriman will manage the show, which will include senior, junior and children's classes. Chief steward will be Mrs. H. Sanders, and her assistants will be Mrs. B. Ash and Mrs. M. Christie.

Board Recommends Guaranteed Pay For Mechanics

PORT ALBERNI—A guaranteed take-home weekly pay of $72 on a 40-hour work week, including payment for statutory holidays, was contained in a majority conciliation board recommendation for employees of seven garages here and in Alberni.

Present contract is for a 33-hour guaranteed pay week at $1.70 an hour for journeymen.

Chairman H. P. Wyness and union nominee Thomas G. Gooderham, Pacific Coast region TLC representative, signed the recommendation. H. G. Barnes, employers' nominee, said he approved of the report except that he felt the employers could not pay the increased cost. Mr. Barnes said he would agree if statutory holidays were excluded from the guarantee clause.

The guarantee, recommended to become effective Sept. 1, will exist as long as workers in the Port Alberni and Alberni garages report daily for work regardless of whether a full day's employment is in sight.

Red Sox Win Baseball League

CHEMAINUS—The Chemainus Red Sox are the new champions of the Mid-Island Senior Amateur Baseball League

The Red Sox nailed down their first pennant by winning five straight games from the hapless Nanaimo Clippers as they took both ends of a twin bill Sunday by scores of 9-7 and 5-1. Highlight of the twin bill was a two-hit pitching performance turned in by lefty Ken Williams in the night game.

The double win for Chemainus gave the team a season's record of 19 wins against only one loss. The Red Sox had a win streak of 15 games and have not been beaten in league play since May 16.

EGGS MAKE ROUND TRIP

NANAIMO—Jimmy Thomson, pigeon fancier and oldest member of Nanaimo Racing Pigeon Club, sold two eggs to another fancier at Chase River, four miles from his home.

The eggs hatched eventually, but when the young birds made their first flight they headed straight back to Thomson's pen.

Homing pigeons, of course.

Leask Wins Tennis Title In Cowichan

DUNCAN — Jack Leask, South Cowichan Lawn Tennis Club president, defeated Willie Thom to become district singles champion in the club's open tennis tournament on the week-end.

He won the Trench Cup by defeating his opponent 6-1, 6-4.

Most interesting and exciting match of the day was the women's singles event for the Elkington Cup, when Mrs. Vivian Palmer out-fought Miss Bella Greenwood, many times champion in the past, in three well-played sets, 6-3, 2-6, 7-5. Mrs. Palmer's well-placed forcing drives and net play gave her the margin of victory over Miss Greenwood's steadiness.

The Kingston Cup, emblematic of the men's doubles championship of the district, was won by Eric Leney and Art Stevenson in a close victory over Basil Wallace and Jack Leask. Scores were 7-5, 6-4.

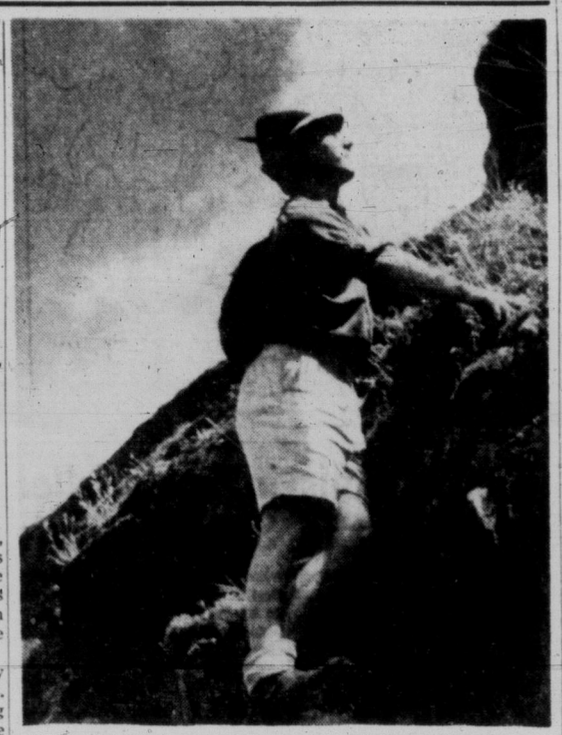
Miss Greenwood and Miss Janet Leask teamed to win the Staples Trophy in the women's doubles. They defeated Miss Gill Dunlop and Miss Barbara Sharp, 6-2, 6-2. The latter were the defending champions.

Mrs. Palmer and Art Stevenson paired to win the Longbourne Cup for mixed doubles for the second straight year. They outplayed Miss Greenwood and Jack Leask 6-2, 6-4. Trophies were presented to the winners by Mrs. A. E. Stead.

The club entertained and defeated the Camosun Tennis Club, Victoria, in an inter-club match 9-3 Sunday.

Results were as follows, with Cowichan players named first: Women's doubles — Miss I. Greenwood and Miss J. Leask defeated Mrs. N. Finlayson and Miss J. Grant; Mrs. D. Cheeke and Miss J. Gillespie defeated Mrs. M. Bateman and Mrs. D. Garnet; Mrs. A. E. Stead and Miss J. Leney lost to Miss J. Herritage and Miss M. Johnson. Men's doubles—R. F. Ford and A. F. Stevenson defeated S. Gaunt and J. Garnet; B. K. Wallace and J. C. Leask defeated E. Bateman and L. Stilling; J. Myers and I. Worral lost to A. Anderson and S. Rowebottom.

Mixed doubles—Miss Greenwood and Stevenson defeated Mrs. Finlayson and Gaunt; Miss Gillespie and Ford lost to Miss J. Heritage and T. Garnet; Miss Leask and Wallace defeated Mr. and Mrs. E. Bateman; Mrs. Cheeke and Leask defeated Miss Grant and Anderson; Mrs. Stead and Myers defeated Mrs. Garnet and Stilling; Miss Leney and Worrall defeated Miss Johnson and Rowebottom.



Climber Spurns Easy Path

There is a trail to peak of Mount Finlayson, overlooking Malahat, but Noel Lax of Victoria Alpine Club chooses rugged west side for ascent to 1,342-foot summit. Mr. Lax, an experienced climber, is one of party that will attempt to scale Mt. General Foster in Strathcona Park next month. (Photo by Alice Borge.)

40 Blooms Counted on Stalk Of Lily in Sidney Garden

SIDNEY—Five years ago G. E. Fleming displayed a Regal lily which he had grown from seed eight years previously, and which boasted 33 blooms on a stem six feet high.

Mr. Fleming now lives at 2351 Marine Drive, but the lily is still with him. This year it excelled itself by producing 40 blooms on a stem of well over six feet.

"Unbelievers may drive out to the above address and see the 40 blooms on the same old bulb," Mr. Fleming told the Times. "It will be at its best this week."

He first grew the lilies while living at Mount Baker and Second Avenue.

Ship Service From Sidney Under Protest

Chamber Fears CPR Prejudiced

SIDNEY — A bitter protest against the ferry service offered by the CPR between here and Vancouver has been made by Sidney Chamber of Commerce.

J. G. Mitchell, chairman of the businessmen's committee of the chamber, said a complaint has been made to William Manson, vice-president of the CPR western division, and the Victoria chamber has been asked to take a stand.

He said that although the Princess Elaine makes a round trip daily between Vancouver and Sidney, "they don't advertise the run, and they try to send passengers to Nanaimo instead of Sidney."

BAR COMPETITION

"I don't know why they do this," he said. "But if they are prejudiced against Sidney, why don't they give up the run and let another company run it? I think they just keep the boat on to keep anyone else from operating the service."

Mr. Mitchell said summer business could be tripled, and that winter operations could be made to show a profit. He also compalined of discourteous treatment of passengers on the run.

Chemainus Sawmill To Close Aug. 2-16

CHEMAINUS — McMillan & Bloedel Ltd. will shut down August 2 to 16.

Maintenance work will be carried out during the shut down, and the pony rig will operate on the day and afternoon shifts only during the first week in August. This operation will affect 36 men on each shift.

Camps will operate full time, barring shut down due to fire hazard.

Chemainus Boy Wins Soap Box Race Crown

CHEMAINUS — Tommy Millard, Chemainus soap-box racer, won both the senior final and grand championship in the soap-box derby held here Sunday.

The 14-year-old driver also won double honors at Port Alberni July 1 to become the leading Vancouver Island driver to date.

David Blank of Nanaimo was runner-up in the senior final, and Glenn Woodley of Chemainus finished third. Bruce Dick of Chemainus won the junior final to give the local racers a clean sweep of the major prizes. Ken Higgs of Chemainus finished second in the junior final, and Jimmy Blank of Nanaimo was third.

Consolation winner was Doug Blake of Port Alberni. Runner-up was J. Heintz, also of Port Alberni. Special prize for the best built racer went to Ken Beswick of Victoria.

The second annual race here drew entries from Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Victoria and Chemainus.

Only accident in the meet came in the fifth heat of the senior run when Ken Barlow, Victoria, collided with a dog as it ran out onto the Oak Street hill. The collision cost the young driver second place. Judges ordered the race re-run, however, and Barlow finished in second position.

Langford Priest Attends Retreat On Kuper Island

LANGFORD—Rev. W. J. O'Brien of St. Richard's parish, Langford, is attending the annual retreat for Vancouver Island priests at Kuper Island.

He left Monday and will return for services on the week-end.

A special mass was held at the church July 18 by Father O'Brien when 20 children attended their first Communion.

The mass was a climax to catechism classes held in the previous two weeks at Langford for children of Belmont Park, Happy Valley, Metchosin and Langford. They were conducted by Sister Mary Adelaide and Sister Mary Lucinda.

Father O'Brien entertained the children at a picnic Friday at the rectory grounds, when supervised games and refreshments were enjoyed.

Kiwanis Appliance Show Scheduled Early in Sept.

Victoria Kiwanis Club will hold its annual major appliance show Sept. 8 to 11, from 2.30 to 10.30 p.m. in Victoria Curling Rink.

Patrons will have the opportunity to win a door prize offered each day, and winners will have their choice of a de luxe refrigerator, 21-inch television set, automatic stove, electric washing machine or clothes drier and $400 worth of power tools for a home workshop.

A total of six door prizes will be offered, with two being given on the final day of the show. Combined value is $2,000.

For the women, a fashion show has been scheduled for each afternoon, through courtesy of Hudson's Bay Co., and entertainment for the whole family is being planned.

All types of electric and gas appliances for the home will be on exhibition. Proceeds go toward Kiwanis charities and community work in the Greater Victoria area.

Victoria Cadets Hold Ceremony at Qualicum Beach

QUALICUM BEACH—Tribute to two generations of fallen in two world wars was paid by a third generation in uniform at the Qualicum Beach War Memorial, when cadets of the junior division of the IOF Cadet Corps of Victoria laid a wreath at the memorial as they started home after three days' camp here.

The corps is co-sponsored by the 119th Battery, RCA (Active) of Victoria, and the Independent Order of Foresters, and has about 50 senior members and 20 junior. A small detachment of the latter had been in camp three days at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. W. Easthom here, under command of their instructor, Lieut. William Logan, to gain camping experience.

It is hoped that more members will come up later in the season for a week under canvas.

The boys stopped at the memorial and were marched smartly to position by Cadet Lance-Bombardier Jack Heath. The wreath was laid by Cadet William Foote, and a two minutes' silence was observed.

Customs Official Honored

Retiring from the customs service after 40 years, Vere W. Carter, right, is presented with a set of traveling bags. Making the presentation on behalf of his co-workers is V. E. Goddard, the occasion being an informal party at Mr. Carter's home, 1733 Feltham Road. Born in Victoria in 1894, Mr. Carter entered the customs service as a messenger in 1913, went overseas in the First World War and worked for six years at Banfield as a packer on his return. He came back to Victoria in 1926 to the parcel post branch, where he was working on his retirement.

British Press Reflects Relief, Gloom Over Indo-China Truce

LONDON (UP)—The British press expressed cautious relief mingled with gloom in editorial comments today on the Indo-China ceasefire. But in Paris the headlines were big, black and happy with news that Premier Pierre Mendes-France had made good.

Communist newspapers in France, Britain and East Germany hailed the agreement as a step toward possible global peace.

The London Daily Worker ran a seven column banner "The Cease-Fire Is Signed." In a brief page one editorial, the Red organ said the "Victory for peace must be a stepping stone to greater things."

"There must be an agreement on European questions, above all, on the future of Germany," The Worker said. "The powers which made the settlement in Indo-China can make a settlement in Europe."

The Communist newspaper credited the cease-fire to the "peoples" of France and Britain who, it said, "made it clear that they would not follow America into an all-out war in Asia . . ."

The ceasefire, it said, "proved the Soviet Union and China have been ready to negotiate peace."

In Paris, L'Humanite said "if we wish to prolong this peace we must turn our attention as swiftly as possible to the principal political problems which divide the states of Europe and Asia and find for them a durable peace."

The independent left-wing Combat said Mendes-France "has won his unbelievable bet against suspicion, hatred and death."

"That success forecasts other successes," the newspaper said.

The right-wing L'Aurore said the premier "conducted this negotiation in a superior way precisely within the terms of his pledge to the national assembly."

Parisien Libre said that "France is crossed off the map—our flag no longer flies over Hanio."

"Military reasons imposed this very unhappy sacrifice after years of a war in which, for not having made the necessary effort, we have finally lost the game."

The Times of London said there "is cause for deep thankfulness" in the ceasefire. But, it said "there cannot be joy, a wound that has bled France for eight years . . . is at last being cauterized and bound up."

The Times credited the successful conclusion of the conference to "the unremitting imaginative skill" of British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the frankness with which Mendes-France "looked facts in the face . . . and decided to make sure of such a painful truce rather than commit France to a further period of profitless war . . ."

"The truth remains that a large part of Indo-China is lost to the western world," the Times said, but the terms of the agreement "were by far the best attainable."

The Daily Express headlined its editorial: "A Day of Sorrow." ". . . France is not alone to blame. This is a defeat for all the democracies, a punishment of all of them for their unpreparedness and division," it said. "All must share in the guilt."

The Socialist organ, Daily Herald, said Geneva "is living proof that mankind need not stumble on into atomic catastrophe." The Liberal News Chronicle complimented Mendes-France on bringing about the cease-fire but cautioned that the settlement requires careful examination.

"The free world has lost a lot," the News Chronicle said. "In the East, where 'face' accounts for so much, the Communists have gained incalculable prestige. They have bitten deep into southeast Asia, where our interests are great and our position is precarious."

Reaction from other European capitals:

Stockholm, Sweden—The Liberal and pro-American newspaper Dagens Nyheter labeled the cease-fire as a major Communist victory. The neutralist Stockholm Tidningen expressed hope the agreement will contribute to a lessening of world tension."

Copenhagen, Denmark — The Danish newspapers hailed the cease-fire, but warned the free world can maintain its position only by creating strength through unity.

Oslo, Norway—The Conservative-Morgenbladet compared the situation in Viet Nam with that prevailing in Korea and cautioned that "an explosion may occur in the poor, unhappy country where there is neither peace nor war." Other newspapers greeted the cease-fire as a "step toward peace."

Farmers Plan Ottawa March; Tiffs at Winnipeg Conference

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Threats of internal dissension marred the two-day council of war of 500 farmers here as the Alberta group balked at major measures boosted by rural representatives from four other provinces.

The farmers served notice on the federal government that they want action, despite rumblings that Alberta farmers might not go along with the plans of the Interprovincial Farm Union Council. Attention Tuesday focused on demands for a march on Ottawa if the federal government doesn't allow advances on farm-stored grain or undertake some other measure for farmer relief within the next few months.

As tempers frayed in the rising heat, the 30 delegates from Alberta said they didn't think their groups at home would support the action. The Alberta bloc said also that a resolution advocating a national farm organization "will split us wide open."

But, pushed by the large delegations from Manitoba and Saskatchewan, both measures passed after several hours of wrangling.

Cash advances on farm stored grain was put forward as the key measure to relieve the pressure on farmers caught between falling prices and grain surpluses on the one hand and rising costs of consumer goods on the other.

Mrs. Bernice Norman, women's president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, said "Saskatchewan farm families have to have financial help or they're going to suffer. They want and need cash advances."

Nicholas Proves He 'Can' Pitch

Salem 5, Victoria 1

Victoria Tyees may have thought they had seen the last of pitcher Joe Nicholas when he was returned by the club to Portland about two weeks ago.

But they hadn't. Nicholas, being that pitcher for whose appearance Tyees were forced to wait for some time and who couldn't win a game once he did show, came back to haunt Tyees at Salem on Tuesday night.

The slow-balling righthander gave up only four singles and one double to Tyees as Salem gained in the Western International Baseball League second-half race by taking a 5-1 decision.

Tyees scored their only run in the first inning as Ron Jackson, Don Pries and Dain Clay hit successive singles. However, Nicholas allowed only two more hits in the remainder of the game. Steve Mesner singling in the second and Mel Stein hitting a double in the seventh.

The loss dropped Tyees into a four-team second-place tie, two and one-half games back of the leading Lewiston Broncs.

Salem scored once in the second and then broke loose for a three-run outburst in the fourth. They added another insurance run in the seventh.

John Tierney started on the mound for Tyees, but gave over to Mike Kanshin.

In addition to pitching Salem to the win, Nicholas chipped in with a double to drive in one run. He struck out four and walked but three.

PRIES BOUNCED

Tyees' manager Pries and catcher Don Lundberg were ejected from the game in the seventh inning for arguing too heatedly with the umpire.

In other games Tuesday night, Lewiston Broncs shaded Wenatchee Chiefs, 3-2, after Chiefs' Tony Rivas had tied the score with a homer in the top of the ninth; Tri-City split a twin bill with Yakima, winning 6-3 and losing 2-1, and Vancouver and Edmonton were rained out.

Herman Besse, former Pacific Coast League veteran, pitched his first WIL victory for Tri-City.

Solarium Derby Prize List Now on Display

The annual Anglers-Times Derby scheduled for Saanich Inlet on Sunday awaits only the starter's gun to be under way. Ross Hurls One Hitter; Arrows Grab Ball Lead

Arrows 5, Chinese Students 1

Bud Ross pitched his best game of the season and moved Arrow Furniture into a one-point lead in the Senior A Men's Softball League as Arrows dumped Chinese Students 5-1 at Central Park Tuesday.

Ross hurled a neat one-hitter and he lost his shutout in the top of the sixth on an error, as centre fielder George Brown failed to hold a long fly by Eddie Lou and it fell in for a three-base muff. Lou scored on a passed ball.

The lone base knock by Students was picked up by the league's leading batter Jimmy John in the fifth inning when he singled cleanly over second base. Ross had retired the first 12 batters before John's blow.

Students got off to a bad start and lost the ball game in the first inning. Stan Tenning was late in getting to the park and Jimmy John opened on the mound for Students. He failed to retire a batter as Hal Yardley opened with a triple. Don Robinson walked and Ronnie Benn followed with a single.

Tenning came in to pitch to John Furmston and he was nicked for a single. A sacrifice fly and infield out brought in two more runs to put Arrows ahead 3-0.

Students then settled down and except for the fourth inning when Arrows picked up three straight hits and failed to score the game was close to the vest.

Arrows scored their final two runs in the seventh.

Thursday night the improving Mayo Lumber of Duncan come to town to play United Services. Game time is 6.45 p.m.

WIDOWED MOTHER HELPS WELSH STAR TO GAMES

LONDON (AP)—Hywell Williams, young British track star, took off by air Tuesday for Vancouver in a "last ditch" effort to make the Welsh Empire Games team.

Williams, 24, was originally included in the team for the discus, pole vault and shot-put events but was dropped when it appeared he would not return from army service in Africa in time for the games.

Williams paid his own air passage from Kenya to London and his widowed mother paid $750 fare to Canada.

"I'm told the chances of my getting a place on the team are 1,000 to 1 against," he said, "but I'm going because of the earnest hopes of my mother and my late father that I should take part."

TWO TEAMS FILE ENTRIES

Chummy Crabbe Is Soccer's Top Rookie

Two entries in the Victoria and District Football League this season have already been received, while Chummy Crabbe of Wests has been honored.

Following a league meeting Tuesday night, secretary Don Gray announced that entries for the senior soccer league have been filed by the Tillicum Athletic Club and the Duncan Native Sons. No deadline for entries has yet been set.

It was decided at the meeting Tuesday night to hold the annual general meeting on August 10, at which time nomination of officers for the coming season will be made. Election of officers will take place on August 17.

A trophy was donated to the league last season by Mrs. J. M. Lucas and W. H. Currie, which is known as the Lands' End Confectionery Trophy and will be awarded to the best rookie in the league.

Crabbe was voted the honor and will be presented with the trophy at the first league game this season at Beacon Hill Park.

Crabbe edged out Esquimalt's Gene Pedneault in the final balloting.

RUSSIANS TO COMPETE

MOSCOW (AP) — Avery Brundage of Chicago, president of the International Olympic Committee, said Russia has "given every indication" it will go to Australia to compete in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne.

Fosters Trip Loop Leaders

The ability to come through in the clutch paid off for Fosters at Heywood Park Tuesday night, as they chalked up a 9-4 win over Tillicums, Senior B Men's Softball League leaders.

A homer by Pete Bridge in the fifth inning with two men on bases, and a triple in the seventh by Ben Price with two runners aboard, did the trick, moving Fosters a game closer to the leaders.

Shirley Gets Second Despite Cracked Ribs

LONDON (BUP) — Most of Canada's riders in the international horseshow at White City Stadium fared poorly, but Miss Shirley Thomas, the youngest member of the Canadian contingent, proved her mettle by placing second with two cracked ribs.

Miss Thomas, with the ribs strapped up, was eliminated from the Queen Elizabeth II Cup, but she placed second in the Metropolitan Stakes, a jumping competition, while most of her teammates fell by the wayside.

Bartzen Arrives Late, But Wins in a Hurry

TORONTO (CP) — Bernard Bartzen, 26-year-old lanky Texan, stepped from a plane onto a tennis court Tuesday and breezed through his first match in the Canadian tennis championships.

The 140-pound southpaw from San Angelo, Tex., who defeated Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas in Chicago to win the United States clay courts championship last week, had been expected Monday but was delayed because of flight difficulties.

Shortly after the trip Tuesday, he took to the court and defeated Hugh Peacock of Toronto 6-4, 6-1.

Chief hopes of bringing the title back to Canada lies with Lorne Main, of Toronto, hero of Canada's Davis Cup victory over Chile and seeded No. 1 Canadian in the tournament. Main is scheduled to meet Andres Hammersley, of Chile, seventh-seeded foreigner in the tournament, in the fourth-round play today.

Main had an easy third-round win Tuesday, routing Hans Jelinik of Toronto in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1.

Hammersley defeated John Frenchho of Binghampton, N.Y., 6-4, 6-2 in third-round play on Tuesday.

Colwood Playoffs To Open Tonight

League-champion Brentwood is scheduled to meet third-place Elders tonight at Brentwood in the first game of a best-of-three semi-final series for the Colwood and District Senior C Men's Softball League playoff championship.

In another semi-final, Foresters and Sidney clash at Bullen Park in the first game of their best-of-three series.

Second games in both series are scheduled to be played Sunday, with the third games, if necessary, billed July 28.

Final league standings follow:

City Gals Reach Golf Quarter-Final

Herbertson, Fry Advance In B.C. Meet

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two Victoria golfers, one from Penticton and five from Vancouver teed off today for quarter-final play in the B.C. Women's Closed Golf Championship.

The eight battled inclement weather and their opponents in the first round of match play over Shaughnessy's hilly course Tuesday to gain the quarter-final round.

Miss D. Herbertson, 19-year-old Victoria Gorge Vale stylist, and her clubmate, Shirley Fry, both won against Vancouver opponents Tuesday in matches which saw contestants running for cover during downpours.

Miss Herbertson, who won the junior championship with an 86 Monday, had little trouble ousting D. Moore of Capilano 4 and 3, while Miss Fry defeated Mrs. D. Ross of Vancouver Marine Drive 2 and 1.

Medalist Miss Ruth Wilson of Vancouver Point Grey, whose 83 topped the field Monday, won 4 and 3 over Mrs. A. Gregory of Shaughnessy.

Others advancing were Mrs. William Knox, Mrs. H. Creed, Mrs. Brice Evans and Mrs. S. Ross, all of Vancouver, and Mrs. J. Campbell of Penticton.

The 18-hole semi-finals will be played Thursday with a 36-hole final scheduled Friday.

VIC VANS CAPTURE BANTAM BALL TITLE

Vic Van Storage won the Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association bantam league play-off championship Tuesday night at Macdonald Park by defeating Esquimalt, 6-1.

The win was the third straight for Storagemen in the best-of-five final.

Dave Emery won his second game of the series as he allowed only five hits, struck out 11 and walked but one.

Esquimalt's Bob Muse had a no-hitter going until the sixth inning, but was then behind 3-0 due to walks and errors.

George Vickery hit two singles for the losers.

AMATEUR DAY SUNDAY

Farmers, Tyees May Get Serious

By RON COULTER

It should be a big funfest Sunday at "Amateur Baseball Day" at Royal Athletic Park. But if Victoria Tyees and Farmer Construction decide to play the game on the up-and-up, then fans could be in for a real treat.

TO CATCH for Farmer Construction Sunday when they tangle with Victoria Tyees at annual "Amateur Baseball Day" is popular Jim Harford. Harford, second-string catcher for Tyees last year, is currently enjoying a highly successful season in amateur ranks. He is leading hitter on the construction team with a .418 bat mark. A colorful pageant will start the program at 1.30, with the two teams meeting at 3.35.

And the two teams apparently are going to play the contest on the level, for a little while at least. That's the latest word from the men who say they know.

A colorful program has been lined up with a pageant starting at 1.30 getting things under way. The pageant will be followed by official ceremonies, presentations to minor league champions and, at 3.35 the Tyees and the Construction crew are scheduled to take the field.

This will be the third amateur day meeting between the pros and the amateurs.

Tyees, needless to say, have won both games.

The amateurs should show well, as they have their strongest club in years.

But even at that, don't be suprised if maybe such as Milt Martin, Dain Clay, Tom Perez or perhaps Eddie Lake should make the locals eat crow from the pitching mound.

Perhaps manager Don Pries will even take a whirl at pitching himself. Who knows? Last year even club trainer Jack Boag got into the act as a pinch-hitter. He dropped down a perfect bunt, and cake-walked to first as a runner scored from third.

Press-Radio Restrictions Approved

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP)—New Zealand's Empire Games Association fully approves the action of Alex Ross, New Zealand team manager, in restricting press interviews with competitors in Vancouver.

Hi Austad, chairman of the association, said today in reply to critjcism in Canadian newspapers of Ross' attitude that "it is in line with the policy adopted some years ago and carried out by most New Zealand sporting teams in recent years."

"The policy was formulated because of unsatisfactory experiences. All members of the New Zealand team on selection signed an undertaking that they wouldn't communicate with either radio or press without the consent of the team manager. The fact that other countries apparently adopt the same principle is evidence that they have found it necessary."

Bermuda May Send Three to Games

HAMILTON, Bermuda (CP) —Bermuda, short of funds to send a team to the British Empire Games, may be able to send three athletes of the four originally named.

The amateur athletic board said Tuesday sprinter Orien Young, now racing in England, may not make the Games.

The other team members nominated July 8 are: Runner Keith Davis, swimmer Peter Macky and broad-jumper Thelma Jones. D. J. Williams was named manager.

Little Mo Stopped, Breaks Leg in Fall

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP) — Maureen Connolly, 19-year-old queen of the world's tennis courts, was reported "cheerful and smiling" today despite a broken leg which will keep her from defending her national title at Forest Hills next month.

"Little Mo" was horseback riding Tuesday when her horse suddenly shied at a cement truck, pitching her against the truck's fender. She said her leg was caught, and doctors later said the deep gash required "about 20 stitches" to close it.

"Oh, why did this have to happen to me?" she said at Mercy Hospital, where a physician said she would be away from the courts until at least September. He said the break in her right fibula, the small shin bone, would keep her hospitalized seven to 10 days.

"Her injuries are not permanent, but it's hard to say about these things," he said. "The cut was bad, but the fracture isn't too bad.

"She's taking it very well, and she's a very game girl, but I just can't say when she'll get back to championship form. It looks now as if she'll make a complete recovery.

"She's awake, smiling and cheerful. That will help."

A three-hour operation was required to close the jagged cut and repair any tendon damage. She was rushed to the hospital from the scene at nearby Mission Valley, and X-rays disclosed the break.

PILS TOP INDIANS; ROYALS HERE

Anything Can Happen In Boxla—and Does

Pilseners 14, Indians 7

There is neither rhyme nor reason to recent antics of clubs in the Intercity Lacrosse League. One night's performance means little.

Take the case of New Westminster Royals, who are here tonight for a game against Victoria Shamrocks at Memorial Arena.

Last Thursday, cellar-dwelling Royals looked like contenders for the last playoff spot as they moved past Nanaimo Native Sons, 15-14. Yet, last Friday Royals looked sickly as Rocks trounced the mainland club, 23-11.

To deepen the mystery, second-place PNE Indians blasted Vancouver Pilseners, 13-7, last Friday and on Saturday Pilseners dropped another game, losing 8-5 to the lowly Sons.

Tuesday night at Vancouver Forum, Pilseners rebounded to send Indians packing as they came up with one of their sharpest performances this season and took an easy 14-7 victory.

MARSH GETS FOUR

Bobby Marsh netted four goals to pace Pilseners on Tuesday night. Pilseners held a 5-3 half-time lead and upped the margin to 12-5 with a seven-goal outburst in the third quarter. The teams then divided four goals in the last quarter.

Rocks will make only one change for the game tonight, popular Norm Baker moving on a line with Jack Bionda and Jack Northup.

Whitey Severson, Larry Booth and Archie Browning will form the first attacking unit, while Bill Bamford, Harry Irwin and Alan Gill will work on the forward line.

Nip O'Hearn and Jack Thompson and Arnie Ferguson and Bob Monaghan will be on defense units in front of goalie Geordy Johnston. Jack Sibbald is listed as utility.

Green Shares Track Honor On Recheck

Due to an error in scoring at the annual Scottish Games Saturday, John Pavelich of Vancouver was awarded the Dr. D. J. Hunter Grand Aggregate Trophy when actually he tied for the honor with Victoria's John Green.

Pavelich had a total of eight points with wins in the 16-pound shotput and the 28-pound weight throw, and thirds in the 16-pound hammer toss and the caber toss.

Green, whose score was apparently overlooked, also made an eight-point total, winning the hammer throw and caber toss, and coming second in the weight throw.

BRITISH EMPIRE GAMES NOTES

Lost Trinidad Team Found

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP) —British Empire Games at a glance:

The case of the disappearing Trinidad team caused furrowed brows among officials of the British Empire Games today.

The eight-member team was to have arrived with a group of 33 eastern Canadians by train Tuesday. Games officials, headed by general chairman Stanley V. Smith, were on hand with a police pipe band to greet them.

The West Indies team was not aboard, however, and railway officials started a nation-wide search. It developed that they missed the train in Montreal because their boat was late in docking, and they are expected in Vancouver later this week.

The spectre of wet, cloudy weather was hanging over the British Empire Games as a result of the dullest and gloomiest summer in Vancouver's history.

The weatherman said Vancouver had the worst May, the second dullest June and the coolest and gloomiest July so far on record.

Unless the weather gets back to normal within the next two weeks, rain and cloud may put a serious crimp in games attendance and performance.

★ ★ ★

Ragged sweat shirts, old college sweaters and odd-colored shorts have become the trademark of Canada's British Empire Games team in training.

In contrast to the bright green and gold sweat suits of the Australians and black and silver suits of the New Zealanders, the Canadians are still without uniforms.

A coach of Canada's track and field team said the uniforms were ordered from a Montreal firm but hadn't arrived.

★ ★ ★

Injuries—the bane of every athlete—are already beginning to plague the B.E.G. training camp.

Australian sprinter Marlene Mathews pulled a thigh muscle in a relay race and had to be carried off the field. Canadian swimmer Ted Simpson is suffering an infected finger, and will be out of training for several days.

At least seven world champions will compete in British Empire Games track and field events.

World 100-yard title-holder Hector Hogan of Australia will start the parade of champions on opening day, July 31. Marjorie Jackson Nelson of Australia, world women's 100-yard champion, will run the same day. Fred Green and Chris Chattaway of Britain, co-holders of the three-mile championship, will run Aug. 3. Britain's Hirley Lerwill, world high jumping champion, will also compete that day. World 400-metre champion George Rhoden of Jamaica will run in the 400 on Aug. 5. World mile champion John Landy of Australia will compete Aug. 5 and 7, and women's broadjumping champion Yvette Williams of New Zealand will perform on the same day.

Solarium Derby Prize List Grows—Boat Top Award

Will Be Welcome Sunday

It's fish like these that Solarium Derby anglers will be seeking in the annual Anglers-Times fishfest in Saanich Inlet Sunday. The happy and successful anglers are Roy Smith, left, and Verne Palliser, and the winning lure in a recent outing was a combination of a Roy Smith dodger and minnow.

The Anglers-Times Solarium Derby prize list, the biggest in history when first announced officially on Saturday, is bigger than ever today.

Added to the imposing and valuable array of fishing prizes have been a 16-foot Peterboro boat and a table model radio combination, plus other lesser, but equally as appreciated, awards.

The boat was donated by a local marine firm and because of its value takes precedence over all other fishing awards.

All fishing prizes have been donated and to credit the donors a complete list will be published prior to derby day, which is Sunday.

The place is Saanich Inlet, and among other awards for the anglers are a three-horsepower Evinrude motor, a chrome kitchen set, a garden lounge chair, a chest of flat silver, men's and ladies' luggage, a bicycle for the junior champion, rods, reels, electrical appliances, blankets, sport shirts, etc.

In this regard, all prizes will be tabulated in their order of presentation when the list is complete.

However, that is not all. For the above list does not include the special consolation award and the most valuable prize of the lot—a $2,800 automobile.

Even the presentation ceremonies this year will be on a bigger (and more glamorous) scale than ever before. Florence Chadwick, the world's most renowned woman swimmer, has graciously consented to officiate at this colorful function and climax to the derby proper.

The anti-climax will come when derby chairman Wes Fulton turns over to the Solarium Hospital for crippled children a cheque which Fulton himself believes will top all other derby records.

Last year's record total was slightly over $6,000 and, going into the final four days, this year's event was running slightly ahead of that figure.

Officials of the annual Anglers-Times fishfest will hold their final pre-derby meeting Thursday night, at which time official rules will be announced.

One derby rule that has been changed this year is that derby will end at 3 o'clock and not 4 as in previous years. Starting time will be the same as before —6 a.m.

The prize presentation will be held at the Anchorage as usual at 5 p.m. with Ted Reynolds acting as emcee. The presentation ceremonies will be broadcast over CJVI between 7.30 and 8 Sunday evening.

Meanwhile all ticket-book holders are urged to contact derby committeeman Wil Wilson as soon as possible in order that all tickets be accounted for prior to Sunday.

Ladder Derby Standings

Gerry Neill's 18¼-pound spring topped the entries in Tuesday night's results in the eighth week Victoria Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association ladder derby.

Neill picked up the big fish between Senanus Bay and Bamberton. The catch puts him on the second rung of the ladder.

A 17.09-pounder put Winston Silver in third spot and Dave Wilson's 17.02-pounder took fourth rung.

Six of the days' entries were weighed in at Brentwood, two at Deep Cove and two at Hall's.

Unofficial eighth-week results, as of Tuesday, follow.

1—Frank Thew	18.08
2—Gerry Neill	18.04
3—Winston Silver	17.09

HERE'S WHY STEW SELLS DERBY TICKETS

Son of '53 Derby Prize Winner Once a Cripple, Now Policeman

Stew Pringle can give you a couple of the most solid arguments you ever heard for buying a ticket for the Times-Anglers Solarium derby.

The big one-day derby will be held in Saanich Inlet Sunday and Stew is an ardent fisherman. But you won't see him fishing, not until the derby is officially ended and there isn't a chance to sell another ticket. He'll be prowling the docks and boathouses and he'll be telling this story.

When Stew's oldest son Bobby was just two and one-half years old there was something wrong with one of the youngster's legs. It wouldn't hold his weight and just collapsed like a stalk of wet grass.

The boy had to be put into the Queen Alexandra Solarium. When the youngster went in, Stew was worried that his son might never be normal. But in a year and a half young Bobby was out of the Solarium, walking and running with the most active kids in the neighborhood.

The crippled youngster who couldn't stand up is now a member of the Esquimalt police department. He stands six feet two inches and weighs a healthy 200 pounds.

That's the first sales talk Stew gives to potential derby ticket clients.

If that doesn't push the sale, Stew tells about what happened last year.

Stew had a derby ticket last derby day. No one had to prompt him to buy one when the big sales push started.

On derby day, Stew and his family were out at Sooke, picking berries. He arrived home, late at night, to find notes stuck in his door and messages scribbled at his phone.

While he had been away, his ticket had been drawn and Stew had won himself a 1953 Chevrolet, for his $1 ticket

That's the second argument Stew uses to sell derby tickets.

So far, his arguments have been so effective that he has personally sold slightly over 500 tickets.

Not everyone can win a car, as Stew did.

But everyone can realize the misfortune of a boy who cannot walk, who must spend his childhood wrapped in steel braces instead of a Little League baseball uniform. And everyone can dig down for a buck, once a year, to make husky men out of frail children. Just ask Stew Pringle and his son Bobby.

SOLARIUM BENEFITS

Total of $19,305 Raised by Derbies

The Anglers-Times Solarium Derby has come a long way since its first tentative steps back in 1946.

It was back in the year 1946, shortly after the close of the Second World War, that the Victoria Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association adopted the Solarium and made it the benefactor of what has grown to be the biggest one-day fishing derby on Vancouver Island.

Proof of the success of their venture into the funds-raising business can be stated in cold hard figures.

Since that first derby in 1946, when $1,000 was realized, a total of $19,305 has been raised to aid in the rehabilitation of physically deformed and crippled children.

The totals have been as follows: 1946, $1,000; 1947, $1,511; 1948, $1,520; 1949, $2,418; 1950, $1,660; 1951, $2,246; 1952, $2,762; 1953, $6,008.

The significant fact about those totals is that only on one occasion has the total slipped below the total of the previous year. Last year's total more than made up for any previous deficits. By dint of hard work and more hard work, the biggest total ever taken in was realized.

This year derby officials are hoping for another record.

The target this year is $8,000. That would take the total well over the $25,000 mark, an achievement that every member of the anglers' clan could well be proud of.

But they can't do it alone. Derby day is Sunday and there are still tickets to be sold and plenty of people to sell them.

LITTLE LEAGUE BASEBALL

Brown Handcuffs Elks

A one-hitter by Richard Brown led Lions to a 10-4 victory over cellar-dwelling Elks in the American League at Little League Park Tuesday.

Brown yielded the lone hit in the bottom of the fifth—it was three-run double by Art Squires.

Bob Moss, hurling for Elks, gave up only two runs in the first four innings, but suffered through four hits, four errors, two walks, and a hit batter, during the fifth.

Scheduled for tonight is a National League game at Little League Park between Odd Fellows and North Kiwanis who will battle for the league lead, all four teams being tied for first at present.

Line score and team standings follow:

Avila's Homer Cheats Yankees of AL Lead

What does a feller have to do to get into first place in the American League?

Casey Stengel didn't ask it in so many words, but it certainly would be an appropriate question to come from the manager of the New York Yankees.

Stengel is running the hottest ball club in the American League. Only 3½ games off the pace on July 1, the Yankees have won 17 out of 19 games since then.

And they still aren't on top. Tuesday night they came within one putout of reaching their objective. The Yanks fought off third-place Chicago handily, winning 4-1. The huge scoreboard in Yankee Stadium showed Boston leading 5-3 after eight innings.

NO SUCH LUCK

But in the ninth at Boston Al Smith coaxed Willard Nixon for a walk with two out and Bobby Avila drilled his second home run of the contest to tie the score. That's the way it stayed through seven more innings as it wound up a 5-5 tie after 16 innings with the league curfew calling a halt.

You can't start an inning after 12.50 a.m., local time, and it was 12.57 a.m. EDT by the time the last out was made in the 16th. It will have to be replayed from the start some time later.

SLIM LEAD

So by four percentage points the Indians stayed in first place. It missed being an exact tie because the Yankees have played two more games than Cleveland, winning one more and losing one more.

GIANTS ON MOVE

While the American League race was tightening, the National League became more lopsided with the New York Giants stretching their advantage over Brooklyn to seven games, their longest lead of the year.

The Giants won a 13-inning struggle in Cincinnati 2-1 and Brooklyn lost in 10 innings in Chicago 3-2. St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 4-2 in the only other National League action. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

Other results in the American League included a 9-1 triumph by Washington over Baltimore and two more losses by the Philadelphia Athletics, their 9th and 10th in a row, this time to Detroit 12-0 and 4-3.

SOLE AUTHORITY

The Canadian government has the sole legislative authority over the fisheries of Canada, both coastal and inland.

Thomson Arrives For Tam Tourney

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter Thomson, young Australian who recently won the British Open golf title, arrived by plane from London Tuesday, accompanied by his wife and nine-week-old daughter. Thomson will vacation in this area briefly before leaving for Chicago and next month's Tam O'Shanter tournament.

RANGERS GET LEWICKI

NEW YORK (BUP)—The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League yesterday purchased forward Danny Lewicki from the Toronto Maple Leafs for an "undisclosed amount of cash."

STANKY SUSPENDED, APOLOGIZES

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Eddie Stanky, under suspension and a fine for his action in a forfeited National League ball game Sunday, has bounced back with a public apology and a promise to reform.

Warren Giles, league president, handed out a five-day suspension and $100 fine to the St. Louis Cardinal manager Tuesday after he held a hearing here on a free-for-all and stalling in the game.

Those events led umpire Babe Pinelli to give Philadelphia Phils a 9-0 forfeit victory in the second half of the twin bill.

Who's Smartest 'Feller' Here?

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel is as crazy as a fox—and twice as sly.

Talking to newspaper men before Tuesday night's game with Chicago, the shrewd New York Yankee manager spied Whitey Ford, his ace southpaw, sitting within earshot.

"You want to know who is the best lefthander in the league?" he asked. "That feller Billy Pierce with the White Sox. He's better than my feller. Sure I picked my feller to pitch the all-star game. But that was only because the other feller had just recovered from a sore arm. But the other feller is better."

Ford undoubtedly heard every word uttered by Casey, but he said nothing. About two and one-half hours later he walked off the field with a neat eight-hitter, after pitching the Yankees to a 4-1 victory over Chicago that kept the Yankees hot on the heels of the leading Cleveland Indians.

In the clubhouse later, Ford declined to take issue with Stengel but admitted he was determined to show his manager that he was a pretty good pitcher, too.

The 24-year-old turned in one of his best efforts of the year. He struck out five and walked only two as he posted his ninth victory against only one loss against the White Sox since he entered the league in 1950.

STRONG ENTRY

TORONTO (CP) — Peter Thomson and Bobby Locke, who finished one-two in the British open golf championship, Tuesday entered the $26,500 Open scheduled for Toronto Scarboro August 23-28.

WALLS FAVORED OVER ROMERO

VANCOUVER, B.C. (BUP)—Canadian heavyweight champion Earl Walls was favored (at 5-2) today to dispose of Argentina's Edgardo Romero in their bout here Thursday night.

Romero, Argentine champion, boasts he has never been knocked out in 50 professional fights. Walls is a kayo expert.

Promoter Earl Kalani predicted a record local fight crowd of 8,000. He reported advance ticket sales as heavy.

Not just great gasoline... you get all three

YOUR B. C. COMPANY HOME OIL LEADS THE WAY!

1 HOME ETHYL GASOLINE

Your British Columbia Company has kept pace with every new development in gasoline refining. Home Ethyl gasoline is produced by modern catalytic cracking methods from the highest grade Alberta crude oils. It contains the additives Ethylene Dibromide and Ethylene Dichloride, which vaporize harmful elements formed in the combustion chamber, ejecting them through the exhaust system. Spark plugs and combustion chamber stay cleaner. Your engine delivers all the power in the gasoline. And, today, Home Ethyle Gasoline has a higher octane rating than ever before. Buy a tankful from your Home Oil Dealer. Prove it yourself, when you buy Home, you can buy no better.

2 HOME EXEL 10-30 MOTOR OIL

Home's new Exel 10-30 is British Columbia's finest motor oil . . . specially developed for modern high compression engines. Here is an all-weather, high detergent oil that produces a measurable improvement in mileage through increased engine efficiency. With Exel 10-30 your engine starts quicker, warms up faster, stays cleaner . . . a tough film of oil protects each moving part against sludge, varnish and corrosion . . . fights engine wear, prolongs engine life. Fleet users of new Exel 10-30 are reporting gasoline savings up to 1 gallon in 7. We invite you to try this new miracle oil in your own car. We feel certain its performance will more than justify its slight additional cost. See your Friendly Home Dealer.

3 HOME FRIENDLY SERVICE

At Home Stations you get a special kind of service, service that is personalized, friendly, complete. Your Home Oil Dealer does more than you expect . . . and does it better. Your car runs better, lasts longer and costs less to operate. In addition your Home Oil Dealer is up to the minute in equipment and facilities. He has many extra conveniences and services to offer. Home-matic Credit Card, ensuring speedier service, accurate records. Road maps and specific information about B.C. travel, hard to get elsewhere. And his restrooms are truly Home-Clean! At Home Oil stations you save money . . . get full enjoyment wherever you drive. You'll like doing business at Home.

OCEANOGRAPHY RECORDS REVEAL FUCA STRAIT WATER GROWS HOTTER OR COLDER IN DIRECT RELATIONSHIP TO TEMPERATURE OF AIR-MASS OVERHEAD

Flo Woos Mackie—Let's Have a Heat Wave, Swim Star Pleads

If the scorching hot spell now drying up the U.S. midwest will only back up to the Pacific Northwest, Florence Chadwick has a good chance of meeting temperatures in Juan de Fuca Strait which will allow her to complete the crossing.

This conclusion has been reached after an intensive analysis of previous water temperature records for the Strait. They have been supplied by the Pacific Oceanographic Group of the fisheries department which is cooperating fully in providing all available information.

The main point is that, given a proper combination of circumstances, the temperature at Race Rocks, could jump to as high as 53 degrees by swim day.

And John P. Tully, oceanographer in charge, says the water in the open Strait usually tends to run a degree or two higher than that.

So, as a really high hope, Flo could conceivably hit water of 55 degrees in mid-strait.

Everyone agrees that it is only the temperature that can beat Flo. She has the endurance to swim the distance. And she has expressed the view that if she could get 53-degree water her chances would be good.

The latest published record of the Race Rocks temperature, which is the guide for the Strait, is for 1952. It shows, incidentally, that the water varied from a low of 43.6 degrees in winter (strangely enough on January 1) to the high of 53.5 degrees, which was on July 16 in that year.

While there are other factors to be taken into account, of course, the analysis shows that the general air mass temperature has a definite relation to that of the water.

For instance on the day of the year's high of 53.5, the air temperature was 73 degrees, also the highest for the month.

The water temperature had built up in five days from 48.7 on July 11 to the 53.5 mark on the 16th. Throughout the period air temperature had hovered around or just below the 70 mark.

And for three days after the 16th the water stayed around 53, with the air in the higher 60's.

As a comparison Tuesday's water temperature at the Race was 49.9 degrees and the air was 59 maximum.

A second period, during mid-August of 1952, again showed how the water temperature climbed with the air. A hot spell began on August 10, with the air at 79 and water at 49.8. Through five days of air around the 70 mark the water gradually climbed to 51.9 by August 15, with air at 74 that day.

Thus it would appear that Flo's big hopes rest on a good hot spell in the week preceding S-day, August 9. The record shows such a heat wave could produce water of 53 degrees or better—and on that could rest the whole outcome of the swim. Now, weatherman Bill Mackie, BRING ON THE HEAT WAVE.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

This is the time of year when we are faced with a grave danger to our health and well-being, namely:

Heat prostration.

I do not customarily deal with serious subjects, but feel it essential to warn the constituents against falling down flat on their faces, due to excessive heat.

After all, where would I be if all the constituents fell down flat on their faces from heat?

(Constituents who fall down flat on their faces are only permitted to do so from reading Between Times).

After consultation with a selected panel of medical authorities, I am privileged to present the following hints to prevent heat prostration.

1. Do not over-exert yourself. The safest place to be at all times, and especially during hot summer weather, is in bed. Very few accidents occur in bed.

2. Do not over-eat. A light breakfast of kidneys, bacon, lyonaisse potatoes, cafe au lait, and strawberries with cream should suffice.

(Note: Arrange to have this served in bed, to avoid over-exertion).

3. Do not over-heat. You know what happens to your car when it is overheated? Well, then, do not take chances which may lead to your own radiator boiling over.

4. Do not over-sleep. Not more than 22 hours per day of sleep is safe during a hot spell. (It may help to some extent if you can spell "hot").

5. Do not over-do. This may need some explanation. There are several things you should not over-do during the hot summer weather, but the main one is, do not overdue any notes you may have at the bank. This tends to make the bank manager hot under the collar, and what we are striving for is coolness, is it not?

6. Do not underestimate the power of a cold bath with ice cubes. A cold bath with ice cubes will do wonders for you after you get out of bed. Mainly, it will make you wonder why you got out of bed.

7. Do not expose yourself to the direct rays of the sun.

8. Do not let the sun expose itself to the direct rays of you.

(Note: Nos. 7 and 8 can best be accomplished by staying in bed, as I told you in the first place).

However, if you dislike staying in bed, and wish to avoid any danger of heat prostration, I have several other suggestions, as follows:

Nos. 9 to 202, inclusive: Live (you should excuse the expression) in Victoria.

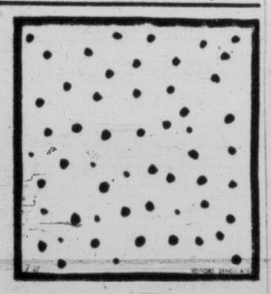
Ramsay caused $700 damage when he struck a parked car. He said lights of an oncoming car had blinded him.

Gilmour hit a pole on Blanshard Street, near Bay. All pleaded guilty.

DROODLES



(See title below)

Notice how accurately I've drawn each separate measle in this Droodle. I copied them from an illustrated medical text book I bought after they outlawed burlesque shows in New York. In fact the measles are so accurate, when I showed the original drawing to my physician, Dr. F. Wollin, he quarantined it. Took me two weeks before I could get it away from him. And by that time he'd obscured the drawing by covering it with calamine lotion and punching holes in the paper with his thermometer to see if it had a fever. On top of that he sent me a ridiculous bill for the services of the nurse he'd had sitting up with it for five nights. It's things like this that make me understand why I'm Dr. Wollin's only patient.

Saanich Masses New Protests Against BCE Power Line Project

Dedicated to blocking the march of B.C. Electric high-tension power towers across Saanich, 80 home-owners Tuesday night mobilized a "Civic Action" group and called for revival of the community-wide ratepayers' association, inactive since pre-war days.

The new Saanich Voters' Association immediately will undertake:

1. Collecting of funds (by means of $1 membership tickets) to pay for a lawyer to advise on legal aspects;

2. Organizing of mass protests at next Monday's Saanich Council meeting and the following night's public hearing of BCE's application for rezoning of the sub-station site.

B.C. Electric has said the H-frame power towers, which will cut a 175-foot swath through the rapidly-developing community, are needed to feed electricity to the proposed $1,000,000 sub-station between Shelbourne and Cedar Hill, north of Burdon extension. The station, in turn, will serve the electricity-hungry Gordon Head-Ten Mile Point area.

OFFICERS NAMED

P. D. Bragg, Glendenning Road, will head the Civic Action group. Named vice-chairman was V. H. Clement, who organized the protest by more than 600 residents, delivered at a stormy council meeting last week. Mrs. Myra V. Yarwood is secretary, and R. S. Evans treasurer.

Executive members are George Ballantyne, W. G. Francis, Lachlan Salmond, Harold Todd, Fred Rawlings, W. G. Fields, George Titterton, Chet Dowman, J. A. Mitchell, Gilbert Brown, F. Maurice, R. Dunn, Dr. Ronald Grant, K. W. Armstrong, R. Patterson, L. Harrison, Mrs. M. Currie, Mrs. P. R. Thompson and Mrs E. T. Lea.

Calling for a monster attendance at next week's council meeting and rezoning hearing, Mr. Clement said: "About the only time our council appears to take notice is when there are lots of bodies around . . . We've got to get together a large membership to show we really mean business."

He bitterly reviewed the treatment of himself and 60 petitioners at the July 12 council meeting.

"We were almost denied our domestic right to speak," he charged.

DIFFICULTIES SEEN

Mr. Clement emphasized the difficulties, real and apparent, in the path of the protesters.

The B.C. Electric, he said, can "hire the best legal and technical brains" but "we have to collect money to pay for legal advice we feel our council should provide."

He stressed that "the only thing we can legally fight is the rezoning. Provincial legislation, he explained, gives B.C. Electric the right "to expropriate land for its power lines, if need be." But he doubted the BCE would do so unless it absolutely had to.

Mr. Clement reiterated previous claims the overhead line would slash residential property values. He said property devalution would total $500,000 and might average $750 per property.

Tuesday night's meeting in St. Luke's Church Hall supported impromptu suggestions the Civic Action group should be expanded into a Saanich ratepayers' association.

"We need a strong association," said Dr. Grant. "Our roads are wearing out; drainage and many other problems" need attention.

BUT HE HAS TO GO HOME AFTER HIS DAY IN COURT

Charged with threatening his mother-in-law, William Luesley, 1735 Davie, won an adjournment to Friday when his trial opened in city police court today.

The adjournment was permitted because of a technicality. The original charge had been dated in error July 26 instead of June 26.

The accused stood on his right after the error was corrected and the delay was granted by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The complainant, Mrs. Gloria House, claims Luesley said: "Look at this knife. I'm going to kill you with it."

City Hotel to Spend $7,500 on Beer Room

A building permit for $7,500 has been taken out by the Westholme Hotel, 1417 Government Street, covering alterations to the main floor of the building to allow for a beer parlor.

It is estimated the alterations will take about six weeks to complete.

Canadian Liquid Air Company, of Montreal, has been issued a $68,000 permit for construction of an oxygen plant on property it acquired from the city earlier this year on Dallas Road, opposite VMD.

J. L. Miller, Vancouver, has drawn plans for the building. Permasteel Engineering of Vancouver is doing the construction.

The Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Hillside and Douglas is to be enlarged and a new vault installed. A permit for $9,500 has been issued covering this work. D. C. Maclennan is the contractor.

Farmer Construction has been awarded contract for a $16,000 addition to the rear of Empress Motors. Plans have been drawn by Charles Craig and call for a new service office at the View Street side of the property.

Al. Henry, 460 Gorge Road, has been issued a permit for the construction of a six-suite apartment house at 1405 Stadacona Avenue, costing $31,000. Plans have been prepared in Vancouver by S. W. Kayll.

A permit has been issued J. M. Patterson for the demolition of the old Albion Iron Works foundry at 616 Pembroke Street. Paine and Townsend is doing the work. The property is part of the site of the proposed Victoria Trading Post.

Larger Ship Considered for Gulf Service

Coast Ferries Limited is considering acquisition of a larger ship for the Gulf Islands-Mainland run, and decision will be governed by traffic and general indications between now and the end of the year, O. A. New, president, reported today.

"Meanwhile, Lady Rose has proved her ability to deal with all the traffic now offered," he said, "and she has been placed under firm charter to June, 1955."

Mr. New said the winter schedule for Lady Rose will be worked out in consultation with the Gulf Islands Improvement Bureau.

The ferry company has completed arrangements with the federal government for permanent provision of berthing facilities at Steveston, using the government wharf at the foot of No. 2 Road, Lulu Island.

Aircraft Carrier Will Visit City

Maggie Here In November

The 18,000-ton aircraft carrier HMCS Magnificent, senior ship in Canada's navy, will pay her first visit to the Pacific coast this fall.

The navy has made no official announcement, but it was learned today the big ship will arrive at Esquimalt sometime in November.

She is based at Halifax, and is at present on training exercises in the Atlantic.

Magnificent was built at Belfast and commissioned in April, 1948. She is a Royal Navy ship, on loan to the RCN, pending delivery of Canada's own aircraft carrier Bonaventure, in 1956.

"Maggie," as she has been nicknamed by her crew, has a top speed of 25 knots, and is 694 feet long and 106 feet in beam. She carries a peacetime complement of 1,350 officers and men.

Her defensive armament, all anti-aircraft, consists of four three-pounders and 30 Bofors guns. Planes carried are Sea Fury fighters and Firefly fighter - bomber - reconnaissance aircraft.

Magnificent arrived on station at Halifax in June, 1948.

PUBLIC INSPECTION

It is not yet known how long Magnificent will spend on this coast, but it is expected arrangements will be made for the public to go aboard. Formation flying demonstrations by her 22 aircraft are also planned.

Commanding officer of Magnificent is Commodore Herbert S. Rayner, DSC and Bar. A large number of her air personnel are from Western Canada, although most seamen are from the East.

COMMUNITY CHEST directors will not meet until next week to consider the question of apportioning $8,000 which City Council has turned over to the Chest for distribution to eight different organizations, Ralph B. Matthews, president, said today. He thought some formula would have to be worked out for consideration of the directors. Five of the eight organizations which City Council wants to share the $8,000 are not member agencies of the Chest.

NAVY REHEARSES THURSDAY FOR EDINBURGH CEREMONIAL

The Royal Canadian Navy will hold a dress rehearsal Thursday of ceremonies to be staged when the Duke of Edinburgh visits Victoria August 2.

The public is invited to attend the hour-long rehearsal, on the upper playing field next to HMCS Naden wardroom, commencing at 1.45 p.m.

Parking facilities will be provided on the lower playing field, off Colville. Motorists are asked to drive in from Lampson.

Rehearsal will cover the ceremony of showing the Queen's Color, parading of the guard of honor and march past.

Rebuilding Started At Cartage Company

Three-Way Job Seen at Charred City Warehouse After Big Blaze

Contractors and insurance investigators went to work on the fire-blackened, water-soaked Central Cartage Company warehouse at 535 Yates today.

Owner James Stinson said that because of Monday's spectacular fire the firm is working from a temporary base at Duncan Storage at 516 Bastion.

Early reports indicate that damages will be much less than the early $150,000 estimate, he added, and he said the builders believe he can be operating from the warehouse again in two or three weeks.

Damage was heaviest to the upper floor of the four-story building and the roof completely collapsed. Water damage is general throughout, but some furniture on the third floor was not touched and some soap stored lower in the building escaped wetting.

Ground floor offices will be renovated, the owner said.

Pro Skater Helps Youngsters at Summer Sessions

The Victoria Curling Club's summer skating sessions, which are being conducted on a trial basis this year, received a boost today.

Curling club officials announced Mrs. Carol Mittun, professional with the Victoria Figure Skating Club, has offered her services for the afternoon sessions as an instructress.

Mrs. Mittun will be on hand during the 2-4.30 afternoon sessions to instruct youngsters in skating and figure skating.

Her presence will make it possible for youngsters to attend the classes without their parents.

The evening classes have been well attended but the afternoon periods have been poorly attended by youngsters. It is felt that this was because parents were unable to find time to spend with the youngsters at the rink.

The artificial ice has been found ideal for skating and the rink will remain open until Aug. 18.

It is hoped that the summer skating will become an annual affair, following the midsummer curling bonspiel.

Jail Term for 2nd Offense

A 14-day jail term without option of fine was received by Frank T. Daley, 3893 Douglas, today for impaired driving. Two other drivers each were fined $250 for the same offense.

Daley, who appeared in Saanich court, admitted to a previous conviction on an impaired driving charge which made the jail term mandatory.

Police said he was arrested on Tillicum Road Tuesday after driving in an erratic manner at 50 miles per hour and missing a stop sign.

Sameul B. Errett was fined in city court. Police said he had been driving erratically on Gorge Road Tuesday.

John Lapshinoff, 1050 Rockland, was convicted following trial for impaired driving which resulted in a collision at Moss and McKenzie Streets, July 1.

Both Errett and Lapsihnoff, who both require their licenses in the course of making their living, were remanded to July 28. Magistrate H. C. Hall will study probation reports before deciding whether they may drive for business purposes.

Optional to the $250 fines is 12 days jail.

ASK The TIMES

Q.—Is the killer whale known to attack swimmers?—D.A.

A.—There are no authenticated cases of killer whales, or blackfish, as the species is also known, attacking persons swimming in the ocean, though there have been reports of specimens of this "wolf of the sea" attacking small boats. There was a report of one of the creatures attacking a skiff carrying two men off the Oregon coast some time ago.

Q.—Can you tell us in what South African native war the engagement known as Rorke's Drift took place? What British detachment was involved? By whom was the VC won?—W.G.N.

A.—Rorke's Drift, which took its name from the Zululand area in which the action was fought, was an action in the Zulu War. In 1879 the Zulus were completely routed at Ulundi and their leader, Cetewayo, was captured by the British, commanded by Gen. Wolseley. Available records do not identify a winner of the VC or the various British units.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

A-N-A Head Sees World Peace Fostered by New Vets' Group

The four-year-old World Veterans' Federation has been a "major influence in quietening down world trouble spots," according to Major Albert J. Wickens, one of the founders of the international association.

Major Wickens, who is serving his eighth term as president of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada, is here on a short visit from his home in Moose Jaw.

The federation has grown in four years from nine representative nations to 26, and the organizations represented have a membership of close to 20,000,000.

The federation is dedicated to the cause of peace.

As yet the Canadian, British and American Legions have not joined the WVF, Major Wickens said, but governments of all three nations have approved the organization.

"We are fully convinced our federation modified tensions between Israel and Egypt," Major Wickens stated.

"And we have no doubt we cleared the air and took the dynamite out of the Yugoslavia-Italy-Trieste trouble.

He personally got the leaders of the two countries' huge veterans factions together.

"I am very happy to see the war veteran getting out from behind his own borders and into the world picture," he said.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Your Visitors Will Enjoy This Display of Handicraft

BY PENNY SAVER

If your out-of-town visitors have a craze for unusual and beautiful hand-made things, I can tell you where to take them to see some and at the same time show them a bit of the countryside. A local Mr. and Mrs. duo make a business from hand-weaving, the making of pottery and of driftwood lamps.

Take a drive out Sooke way with your friends on a sunny afternoon and drop in to see the display . . . you're welcome to browse or buy, as you choose. And if you want complete instructions and the name of the work shop, telephone me at 2-3131, and I'll be only too glad to tell you.

★ ★ ★

Here is an example of what you can buy for just a dollar. Guest towels, hand-woven of cotton boucle can be bought for that price. The towels have geometric designs woven into them. Buy them in white, with a pastel design or in pastels with a contrasting shade in design. I can't think of a nicer bridal shower gift, can you?

★ ★ ★

Do you think your friends would be interested in buying a set of six hand-woven place mats? Bet they would be. If so, tell them that they can buy a set for just $7.95—that's just a little over a $1 each when you work it out. Reasonable, huh?

Honestly, you'll love them. They are woven in attractive stripes. For example, grey is combined with yellow, or green is combined with yellow. Edges are fringed and the fabric is best quality cotton.

I'd like to tell you all about the pottery articles, starting at $1. There are ash trays, bean pots and so forth, but if I go into great lengths I won't have space to tell about the driftwood lamps . . . and those you must hear about!

The chap who makes them selects only the most graceful, most artistic pieces of driftwood. He sands and polishes the tops and bottoms to bring out the grain, but the rest he leaves unouched save for the many coats of wax he uses to harden and preserve the wood. The lamps are perfect for your den or living room. Average price of such a lamp is $22.50, a reasonable price indeed, when you realize the hours of work in the making of one.

★ ★ ★

If I were choosing a shade for a driftwood lamp, I think I'd pick one made of a nautical chart. Charts of Vancouver Island and other localities are cleverly worked into a shade selling at about $5.

Another type of shade is one made of cedar shakes woven together with colored carpet warp. Raffia is inter-woven with the slats to break the light and add more color: about $9. Prices of course, depend largely upon size. I've just given you average prices.

To Be Married Next Month

The engagement has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. William Young, 2527 Thompson Avenue, of their only daughter, Ebena Merle Sheila, to Mr. John Raymond MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. MacDonald of Saskatoon. The marriage will take place on August 21, at 2.30 p.m., in Our Lady of Lourdes Church. Attendants will be Miss Kathleen Laidler, New Westminster, and Miss Marilyn Shaver, Vancouver, bridesmaids, and Miss Ann Stott, flower girl. Miss Young is a graduate of Victoria Normal School and has been teaching at Chilliwack and New Westminster. The groom-elect is a graduate of University of British Columbia wtih a Bachelor of Social Work degree. (Photos by Norman Studios.)

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Wishes He'd Stay Awake; They'd Not Miss So Much

A letter before me will scratch an itch for a lot of women.

I quote part of it:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"Is there any formula or set of rules which can keep my husband awake for five minutes after he sits down of an evening? He is still a young man and a good husband, father and worker. He works a full day, I know, doing fairly active work, but he gets adequate rest and we eat sensibly.

"I know that there are many other men who fall asleep over the newspaper when they sit down after dinner. Maybe there is no help. I have tried to find books and articles which would interest him so much that he could not put them down. No luck! Is this habit or what?

"I feel that we should get more out of life than just doing our jobs. Perhaps I am making too much of an issue out of this, but I feel that many of the important questions of the day are slipping past us unnoticed, and that we are missing many cultural factors. We do not care for television but perhaps that would keep him interested for a while.

"Maybe I am complaining too much and expecting too much, but he gets so peeved at himself and really wants to overcome this."

Believe me, this is an unusual letter, not because it expresses an unusual problem, far from it, but because the writer seems interested primarily in having her husband stay awake rather than in demanding that he be a pleasant companion.

I can understand that because a man is much more exciting when he is looking at television or reading a book than when he is sound asleep. We subconsciously hope that we may suddenly see a twinkle in his eye and we can say something without feeling guilty about waking him up.

This letter called to my attention the fact that during the 18 years I have been writing "Why Grow Old?" I have never had a letter from a man asking how he could keep his wife awake while I have had thousands and thousands from women asking that question. It seems that the little woman can work from sunrise to sunset, and get up with the children at night, and still want to gab.

Well, I haven't time today to go into the reasons for this. But, this is an unusual letter because the wife speaks of them as a team. She never says that "she" is frustrated but that "we" should get more out of life than just doing "our" jobs well.

It is also unusual because the husband seems just as interested in having "them" enjoy life together, and even admits it. That man has no complexes! I will bet this is a truly good marriage and that both husband and wife are mature people emotionally. They are caught up in the strains and stresses of daily living, as everyone is.

Pet Helps Children Learn Responsibility

By ELIZABETH R. HURLOCK, PhD

Far too many parents think of the work involved in having a pet and completely overlook its educational value. A mother writes:

(Q) "Will you please act as moderator in the following family squabble. My husband got a puppy-dog for our children, aged one, three, five, six and eight. He claimed the children need a companion and the house a watching, and that the dog will watch the children. I am against keeping the dog because as long as the children are small a dog is not the right pet for them. A dog needs proper care, and this means more work for me. I work hard all day long to keep the house spic and span, the children clean and the meals tasty and on time. Am I being unreasonable in not wanting a dog in the house for the time being?"

Hurlock

(A) I can readily understand that you do not want to add to the already heavy load you are carrying. But you are overlooking the importance of a pet as far as your children are concerned.

The pet need not mean extra work for you. Your older children are quite old enough to share in the care of their puppy. In fact, it is fun for children to give a puppy its meals, help with its bath, and take it out for a walk. While they are having fun they are also learning the meaning of responsibility.

A puppy will make some trouble for you until it is housebroken. But this will not last long and in no way will it overshadow the pleasure and benefits your children will get from having a pet of their own to play with. I prophesy that it will not be long before you are so devoted to the puppy yourself that your present dread of extra work will be forgotten.

A spic-and-span home is an ideal that few mothers achieve when their children are young. It is questionable whether they should try to achieve it—certainly not if it means sacrificing things that mean more to the family as a whole.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15c in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

Annual Picnic To Port Angeles

The Golden Age Club, Esquimalt, will hold its annual picnic to Port Angeles on July 31. Those wishing to attend must get in touch with Mrs. K. Kilman, 2-3861 or Mrs. F. West, 3-7247 before July 27.

Garden Meeting

Theme of the devotional led by Mrs. P. Bewell at a luncheon meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Metropolitan United Church was "Gardens and Out of Doors." It was very appropriate as the gathering was held in the attractive garden at the home of Mrs. E. R. Bewell, Queenswood Drive.

The president, Miss Gladys Bewell, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. G. Soutar, naval chaplain, who gave an interesting talk on his recent experiences in Japan and of conditions of life in Korea and Hong Kong.

Specimens of fine Japanese workmanship were displayed.

Mrs. H. O. English thanked the speaker for his address and Mrs. Bewell for her hospitality.

Victorian Honored At Tofino Party

TOFINO—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnet and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burchette were co-hosts at a surprise farewell party held at the Arnet home at Tofino, in honor of W. S. Davey, who has been clerk of works for the new Tofino hospital for the past 14 months. He is now returning to his home on Shelbourne Street in Victoria.

During the evening a buffet supper was served and a small gift presented to Mr. Davey. Invited guests were Mrs. R. C. Ericksen, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Bardon Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hagelin, Mr. and Mrs. Ian McLorie, Mr. and Mrs. George Pownall, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Arnet, Mr. and Mrs. William Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Buswood, Messrs. Tom Bone, Gordon Anderson, Gordon Green, Frank Joyce, Larry Arnet, Roland Arnet and Gary Gibson.

Lanolin is now available in handy aerosol containers for spraying a natural - looking sheen on hair gone dull, dry and brittle. It can be used either as a scalp conditioner before shampooing or as a hair dressing after. For best results hold the push-button container 12 to 14 inches from the hair and move it around the head. "Freon," the chemical compound which also acts as the cold-making agent in most mechanical refrigerators, provides the dispensing pressure.

After baby gets his first teeth, you can start feeding him unsweetened zwieback or toast dried in the oven. He will welcome it as a snack or after meals. Chief reason for giving baby dried bread is to let him exercise his jaws. You may also give him dried fruits (apricots or prunes) but crackers do not replace the bread since they soften up in his mouth.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Face powder, when applied correctly, gives your complexion a luminous glow. If possible, work under a strong light when you puff it on. That way, you will be certain to powder well up into the hairline and down into the area of the neck and ears.

Now on the market is a new kind of dripless sink strainer, which drains liquid into a catch-all double bottom to prevent spattering the floor when emptying the strainer. Made of flexible polythene, it is almost unbreakable and cleans readily in warm soap suds.

If you have just had a baby, don't count on luck to get your figure back to its slim firmness. Ask your physician to recommend a set of exercises that will do it.

It is unnecessary to remove the "Cellophane" cellulose film from prepackaged meat before storing cuts in the refrigerator. The "Cellophane" actually helps preserve the meat's moisture content and saves the bother of finding a cover.

You should have an assortment of sponge mops in your cleaning supply closet. Most sponge mops are angled to save the housewife considerable bending and to make it easier to reach dirt in corners. Sponges have a way of hoarding soapsuds so that lather can be spread wherever needed.

Short, broad feet look more graceful in shoes of one color that have a minimum of decoration. Shoes with bows across the instep, for example, should not be selected by the woman who has this problem.

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

On Visit to Her Daughters

Mrs. Carl Quick of Marysville, B.C., who has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Erickson, Station Road, Langford, for the past two weeks, is now staying with another son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pellett, Millstream Road, Highland district, until the end of the month. Mrs. Quick is accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Carol Quick, also of Marysville.

Fifty Years of Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Ennals recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a reception at their home on Cedar Hill Cross Road. The couple were married at Bures St. Mary's, Suffolk, Eng., on July 19, 1904. They came to Canada in 1906, living in Saskatchewan before coming to Victoria in 1933. About 50 personal friends and neighbors gathered for the celebration to offer best wishes. Many gifts and telegrams were received. The whole family were present for the anniversary — Mrs. Dorothy Harvey, Victoria; Miss Eileen Ennals, Lennoxville, Que.; Cpl. Charles Ennals, RCMP, Duncan, with his wife and two sons, and Rev. Bernard F. Ennals, New Westminster, with his wife, son and daughter.

Visiting Relatives Here

Mrs. F. J. White is a visitor in Victoria from Miami, Fla., and is a guest at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, 1149 Oliver Street. She expects to leave for her Florida home again the end of July. Mrs. White's daughter, Miss Agnes Dean White, who was a student at Oak Bay High School several years ago, is now attending McGill University on a scholarship. Mrs. White is the former Miss Grace Beckwith of this city.

Cake Represents Pool

A bridal shower cake representing the Crystal Garden swimming pool, complete with tiny diving board, was cut by bride-elect Miss Jean Spedding when she was honored by members of the "Aqua Nymphs" swimming team, of which she is a member. Mrs. Lynne Norbury, Veteran Avenue, was hostess and guests were Mrs. Marjorie Naysmith, Mrs. William Heagle, Mrs. Earle Colpepper, Mrs. R. Thornber and Misses Esther Mensen, Lois Pomeroy and Marlita Neil.

Attend Wedding Here

Out-of-town guests at the wedding of Miss Joan Creighton to Mr. Garnet Bulmer this afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. T. Baird, Mrs. H. T. Sandvik, Mrs. J. Davie, Vancouver; Miss Marjorie Bulmer, Seattle; Mr. Clay Ruggles, Nanaimo; Mrs. L. Baker, Edmonton; Miss Lotus Schnare, Lytton, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Schnare, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Schnare and Misses Carol and Barbara Schnare of Abbotsford.

Here From Manitoba

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Gallaugher of Winnipeg are visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Stones, Wilkinson Road, for a couple of months.

Bride-Elect Feted

A miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Gail Keyworth, August bride-elect, was given recently by Miss Betty Carr, Miss Nancy Penny and Miss Donna Munro, at the home of Miss Munro, 2170 Ferndale Road. Corsages of red roses and white carnations were presented to the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. L. Keyworth. Guests were Mrs. A. E. Carr, Mrs. S. S. Penny, Mrs. J. B. Munro, Mrs. D. McIntyre, Mrs. L. Reid, Mrs. Ada Facey, Mrs. Barbara Owen, Mrs. Shirley Pickering, Mrs. Lucy Hayward, Mrs. Jean Knappett, Mrs. Maria Kissinger, Mrs. Dorcas Johnson, Mrs. Mae Rockliffe, Mrs. Jean McGinnis, Mrs. June Litster, Mrs. Norma McDougall, Mrs. Bobbie Birtwistle, Mrs. Fran Walker and Misses Mary O'Brien, Claire Kinnis, Mary Smith, Dianne Parsons, Ann Gill, Pat Meagher, Lois Richardson, Margie Richardson, Bettty Moore, Pauline Morrish, Margaret Plunkett, Edna Donaldson and Marge Young.

Ontario Visitors

Mrs. H. H. MacDonald and her small son, Michael, have come from Hamilton, Ont., to spend a holiday in this city, the guests of Mrs. MacDonald's mother, Mrs. H. M. Molyneaux, 1234½ Fort Street.

Wedding Vows Repeated In Oak Bay United Church

A wedding in Oak Bay United Church recently united in marriage Nedra Frances McLauchlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Robinson, 2530 Cadboro Bay Road, with Paul Frederick Williams, RCAF Station, Moose Jaw, Sask., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Williams, 20 Greendale Crescent, Toronto, Ont. Dr. W. W. McPherson officiated.

Tall baskets of white gladioli, carnations and stocks decorated the church and M. Rogers sang "Because" during the signing of the register. Mrs. Vera Barclay was organist.

A full-length gown of net over bridal satin was worn by the attractive bride. The skirt featured inserts of lace, in forms of bows embroidered with seed pearls. The fitted lace jacket was styled with sweetheart neckline embroidered with mother-of-pearl sequins and small seed pearls. A Juliet cap of lace held her fingertip veil of embroidered net and she carried a shower bouquet of deep pink and white carnations and lily of the valley.

As bridesmaid, Miss Bette Griffiths was gowned in deep coral net over satin, in waltz-length. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Little flower girl was Miss Jennifer Costain, who wore a frock of sea green net over taffeta sashed with deep green velvet. Her bouquet was of yellow carnations and mauve sweet peas.

Maurice Brager was best man and ushers were James E. Costain and J. U. Kirk.

Reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Costain, 2607 Dunlevy Street, where the receiving line stood beneath an archway of white streamers and wedding bells, flanked by tall baskets of all-white flowers. Ernest J. Costain proposed the toast to the bride.

Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. E. E. Moore, wore a dress of mauve lace and nylon sheer over rose taffeta, with pale pink accessories. It was Mrs. Moore's 45th wedding anniversary.

Mother of the bride wore a blue and silver print dress with white accessories.

For motoring in the northwest United States on honeymoon, the bride chose a traveling suit of pale mauve with mauve shortie coat, white accessories and orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will live in Moose Jaw, Sask.

Happy Couple Piped From Church

Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Craven were piped from the Church of St. George the Martyr following their wedding last Friday, by Pipe-Major Andy Pollock. The bride is the former Miss Marilyn MacLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacLeod, 2535 Sinclair Road. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Craven, 2396 Heron Street. (Photo by Joncas.)

Ontario Wedding of Interest Here

A wedding in the Church of St. John the Baptist, Norway, Toronto, Ont., is of interest in Victoria. The ceremony took place this afternoon between Dr. Jean Marie MacCallum, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. MacCallum, Petrolia, Ont., and the Rev. James Francis O'Neil, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. O'Neil, 1248 Fort Street, Victoria. Canon F. J. Nicholson officiated, with Rev. F. W. Peirce celebrating Nuptial Eucharist, assisted by Rev. W. Reisberry.

The church, at which the groom was formerly assistant curate, was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums. Francis Sutton was organist and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

An imported gown of white panaglaze, created with waltz-length skirt of layers of lace edged with nylon net, was worn by the bride. The strapless bodice was topped with tuxedo jacket, featuring a low, scooped collar. A Juliet cap of tulle rosettes centred with tiny pearls held her fingertip veil of French illusion net. She wore an heirloom necklace belonging to the groom's aunt and carried a white prayer book topped with gardenias and stephanotis.

Only attendant was the bride's sister, Mrs. F. W. Peirce, who wore a blush pink waltz-length gown of embossed taffeta with bouffant skirt, strapless bodice and lace bolero. Her headdress was of sweetheart roses and white chrysanthemums and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Rev. Lewis S. Garnsworthy was best man. Ushers were Clifford Campbell and Thomas Sexton.

Reception was held in the garden of the Guild Inn, Scarboro, Ont., where the bride's mother, wearing a pink silk boucle dress with matching accessories and corsage of gardenias, assisted the newly-married couple in receiving guests.

Canon F. J. Nicholson proposed the toast to the bride.

A moonlit linen suit with matching hat, carnation red accessories and corsage of red roses was worn by the bride for traveling on honeymoon to Quebec and the New England States.

The couple plan to live at the Rectory, Haliburton, Ont.

Jackman-Rothwell Vows Exchanged

At a ceremony performed recently in Metropolitan United Church by Rev. J. Jones, Edith Anne Rothwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Bolton, 2124 McLaren Avenue, was united in marriage with William J. Jackman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jackman of Chilliwack, B.C.

The bride wore a suit of light beige wool with taffy color accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds, carnations and heather. An heirloom brooch belonging in her family was her only jewelry.

Mrs. Herbert Bowes, matron of honor, wore a navy taffeta dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow tea-roses.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Bottings, 3233 Kingsley, where Herbert Titter, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to her happiness. After a short honeymoon the couple will live in Chemainus, B.C.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. H. Titter of Great Falls, Mont.; Mrs. J. L. Ogilvy, Spokane; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Jackman, Chilliwack; Mrs. Gwen Harriap and Mr. and Mrs. D. Hatch of Vancouver.

St. Paul's Church Realizes $400 at Annual Garden Fete

The garden party recently held by St. Paul's Church at the Esquimalt Memorial Park was a great success and resulted in $400 being raised for the work of the church.

Opening address was given by Mrs. J. C. Cave, wife of the Officer Commanding Royal Canadian Artillery, Work Point Barracks.

Conveners of stalls were: Needlework, Mrs. Hammond; home cooking, Mrs. W. Plater and Mrs. Robson; children's wear, Mrs. F. Rainsford; garden produce, Mrs. Archer; candy, Mrs. Rothery; refreshments, Mrs. R. Rainsford and Major S. Bowden.

Games were provided by the Men's Club. A merry-go-round supplied through Councillor and Mrs. W. Holder and the Esquimalt Lions Club was enjoyed by the children.

Tea was served by Commissioned Officer A. E. Hawkins, Major A. Setterfield and Mr. K. Wells, assisted by members of the Altar Guild under Mrs. W. Seward and members of the Women's Auxiliary.

Joan Creighton, Garnet Bulmer Wed In Metropolitan United Church

Metropolitan United Church was decorated with blue delphiniums and white daisies this afternoon, for the wedding of Joan Kathleen Creighton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Creighton, 200 Island Highway, and Garnet Allan Bulmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bulmer, 1276 Richardson Street.

Miss Madonna McCabe was soloist, accompanied on the organ by Charles Palmer, who also played traditional wedding music. Rev. Douglas Carr officiated and the bride's father gave her in marriage.

The petite bride was lovely in her full-length white gown. The flowing skirt of taffeta was sprinkled with daisies and the lace bodice was styled with three-quarter-length sleeves. White roses formed the headdress which held her full-length veil of illusion net and her bouquet was of pink roses and daisies.

As the only attendant Miss Pat Sansett wore a full length gown of net and lace with blue daisies in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink and white daisies.

Roger Henley was best man and Clay Ruggles, Phillip Poole and Wilf Lessard acted as ushers.

Reception was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents. B. C. Gillie proposed the toast to the bride and the couple cut a three-tier wedding cake which was banked with tulle and pink roses.

Parents of the newlyweds assisted in receiving guests, Mrs. Creighton, wearing a blue dress, navy accessories and corsage of pink roses, and Mrs. Bulmer wearing a navy dress, blue and grey accessories and corsage of pink sweet peas and gladioli.

The bride donned a white knitted suit for traveling in the interior on honeymoon. She had navy and white accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Bulmer will live in Vancouver.

187 PROPOSALS

Weekend's Cover Girl Picks One

TORONTO (BUP)—A pretty blonde from Hamburg, Germany, who got 187 proposals of marriage when her picture appeared in Week-end magazine, has announced that she married the suitor who brought her to Canada.

Thirty-year-old Lilo Kaesche was secretly married two months ago to Jack Fletcher, an aircraft worker at the A. V. Roe plant.

The magazine which carried Miss Kaesche's picture last year explained that because of war casualties her chances of marriage were small. One hundred and eighty-seven Canadian men immediately offered to fill the gap.

She chose Fletcher as the most congenial of those who wrote to her and accepted his offer to bring her over. They spent three months getting acquainted before the marriage.

She said, "I am so happy now I could cry. When I had all those letters after my picture was in the paper I never knew I would be so happy."

"She's a wonderful girl—and a wonderful cook," Fletcher said.

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

AA—Oscar Class. A—Don't Miss
BB—Worthwhile. B—For a Rainy Afternoon
C—To Put in Time

(A) "THEM!" (CAPITOL): This is a deft dram of drama streamlined for those who dote on stories about space ships, "little men," Martians and allied titdbits of science-fiction fantasy.

Of its type it is excellent.

But it is definitely designed for dreamers only.

The plot in brief:

When a six-year-old girl (Sandy Descher) is found wandering over the New Mexico desert in a state of shock, state police Sergeant Ben Peterson (James Whitmore) begins an investigation which leads him to a mysteriously wrecked car-trailer and the murdered owner of a nearby general store.

★ ★ ★

CLUES ARE MEAGER. There is really little to go on except plundered sugar and the occasional whopping footprint. The FBI sends along Robert Graham (James Arness) to help things out plus scientist Dr. Harold Medford (Edmund Gwenn) and daughter Patricia (Joan Weldon).

In the end Dr. Medford's worst fears are founded. "Them" turn out to be huge eight-foot ants, products of the first atom bomb bursts. And the story from there on in depicts the fight to obliterate "them," threats to mankind.

★ ★ ★

THIS IS A GOOD OLD-fashioned black-and-whitey, kept low and intensely mean by the creditable acting of the principals, some chilling glimpses of the beasties, an eerie musical score by academy award winner Bronislau ("Lili") Kaper all under the capable direction of Gordon Douglas.

In conclusion: This column has been plumping for a starring role for James Whitmore for some time now. Happy to see he has finally achieved top billing—and it could have been in a far worse offering than this good science-fiction "Them."

LORD BEAVERBROOK

Beaverbrook Gives Up Control

LONDON (Reuters) — Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian-born newspaper magnate who built up The Daily Express from a small newspaper to one of Britain's most popular dailies, has relinquished control of it and its associated papers.

An announcement from The Express office said Tuesday night:

"Lord Beaverbrook has given a block of shares in the Express to the Beaverbrook Foundation which has been established as a British Empire educational trust.

Lord Beaverbrook, born at Maple, Ont., is 75.

The newspapers he controlled include The Daily Express, with a daily circulation of more than 4,000,000; The Sunday Express, a national Sunday newspaper founded by him; The Evening Standard, a London evening paper; and the Glasgow Evening Citizen.

Lord Beaverbrook came to England from Canada in 1910 and formed the London Express Newspapers, Ltd., in 1915.

HANEY, B.C. (CP)—Damage estimated at $15,000 was caused by a fire that destroyed a warehouse here owned by Allanwood Turkey Farms Ltd. The blaze stopped just short of a wharfload of timber being loaded on scows. The warehouse was used for storing coal.

20 Toronto Boys, T. Eaton Co. Guests, To Visit Victoria

A party of approximately 20 Toronto secondary school boys will visit here August 7 and 8 as part of an educational tour sponsored jointly by Toronto's board of education and the T. Eaton Co. Ltd.

While in Victoria the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. here will play host to the group. They will be taken on a city tour, shown Butchart Gardens, taken for a drive over the Malahat and visit the tri-service college at Royal Roads.

This marks the eighth year for the educational tours, granted as travel scholarships after competition.

One of the highlights of the boys' trip will be their stay in Vancouver where they will attend the British Empire Games.

OFFICIAL COUPON
BAPCO-TIMES SWIM
My estimate of the time Florence Chadwick will remain in the water during the final and official Bapco-Times swim from Victoria to Port Angeles is:
_____ Hours _____ Minutes _____ Seconds
Name _____
Street address _____ Phone No. _____
City or Town _____
RULES
All estimates must be made on this official coupon. They are to be completed and mailed ONLY to British America Paint Co. (BAPCO), P.O. Box 177, Victoria.
For those not wishing to use the mails, entries may be dropped in special boxes at the paint departments of Hudson's Bay Co. and The T. Eaton Co., or at Paint Supply Co., 719 Yates.
The envelope should be plainly marked "BAPCO-TIMES SWIM ESTIMATE."
The coupon will be reproduced in The Times each Tuesday and Wednesday until August 4. Estimates should be mailed each week, but the final closing date will be the mails received by Bapco on August 7.
Employees of B.A. Paint Co. and Victoria Press Ltd., and their families are NOT eligible. There is no limit to the number of estimates a person may make.
Person estimating closest to the exact time Miss Chadwick remains in the water will be awarded $1,000. In case of ties, the money will be divided.
SOLARIUM DONATION

The very big job of segregating and counting the estimates anticipated has been undertaken by the Solarium Junior League. In appreciation of this effort, and to further the work of the Queen Alexandra Solarium for crippled children, swim estimators should attach to this coupon a contribution of their own choosing to the "Solarium Shower of Dimes." EVERY CENT RECEIVED IN THIS CONNECTION WILL GO TO THE SOLARIUM.
Enclosed is my Solarium contribution of _____

Alcan Sales Post For W. B. Lambert

A former secretary of the B.C. Cement Co. here, Victoria-educated William Barber Lambert, has been appointed assistant general sales manager, Aluminum Co. of Canada Ltd., Montreal.

Mr. Lambert joined Alcan in 1944 and held a number of responsible positions, including a special six months assignment in China. He had been manager of export sales since 1952.

Ex-Victorian Promoted By B of M

R. D. MULHOLLAND

Ex-Victorian R. D. Mulholland has been appointed an assistant general manager of Bank of Montreal. His promotion was announced at Montreal today. Also named assistant general manager was G. Arnold Hart, MBE, who formerly held high posts in the bank's Alberta district.

Mr. Mulholland will combine his assistant general managership with his responsibilities as manager of the bank's main office at Montreal.

Before going east, to serve in Ottawa and Montreal, he was manager of the bank's main office here, and before that was assistant manager at the Vancouver main office.

B.C. Fish Rivers To Be Kept Free For Salmon Runs

The provincial government today announced implementation of strict regulations designed to protect salmon on B.C. rivers from the inroads of industry.

An order-in-council approved by the cabinet brings most rivers and streams in the province under control of section 34 of the Fisheries Act, which requires government approval of all dams; fish-gate, ladder or other fish-protective measures whenever streams or rivers are diverted or obstructed by hydraulic projects, and heavy fines for violations.

West Oils Dither, Amurex Drops 85c

TORONTO (CP)—Western oils started a mild recovery in light trading toward the close of stock market activity today.

Industrials held firm. Senior base metals were firm with juniors off pennies, golds advanced pennies in some issues. Uraniums drifted lower.

Papers were the strongest industrial issues with Brown hitting a new high after a fractional change.

The biggest loser in western oils was Amurex, which dropped 85 cents in light trading. Lack of field news and a weak world oil outlook were blamed for the softness in oils.

Hesitant N.Y. Rallied by Oils, Steels

NEW YORK (AP)—Oils and steels helped pull the stock market higher today after a hesitant start.

Gains ran to a point or two at the best in late afternoon, but there numerous small losers throughout the list.

Lower - priced department store stocks continued in demand. Most television, rails, rubbers, tobaccos and airlines also were higher. Mixed groups included motors, chemicals, utilities and electrical equipments.

Canadian stocks were mixed. Dome Mines gained ⅜ and Distillers Seagram advanced ¼. International Nickel eased ¼ and Canadian Pacific dropped ⅛.

Giant Yellowknife, Canadian issue on the American stock exchange, was ahead ⅛.

Montreal Mixed, Mines Decline

MONTREAL (CP) — Stock market prices turned mixed in moderate trading today after weaker tendencies prevailed earlier in the session.

Steels and utilities leaned forward while senior metals and senior oils drifted into softer territory. A mixed tone ruled the miscellaneous industrials and papers sections. Beverages, carriers and banks were mainly unchanged.

Mines slipped downward in a narrow range. Chemical Research was off 10 cents while Algon and Opemiska dipped pennies. Western oils were quiet and featureless.

Mid-West Gains 3c In Inactive Session

Mid-West Gas gained three cents and moved 3,400 shares at 1.87 on this morning's inactive session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange. Noon quotation was 1.85-1.87.

National Exploration held fairly steady at 44 cents while 3,400 shares changed hands. Noon quotation was 43-45.

Peace River Gas sold 100 shares at 4.05, Noon quotation was 4.05-4.20.

Indo-China Pact Stirs London Rally

LONDON (Reuters)—Widespread advances were recorded on the London stock exchange today when the Indo-China settlement news was received on the markets. Best prices, however, were not maintained, although the tone of the market remained firm.

In rails, Canadian Pacific was dull, while other dollar stocks lost ground in response to the downward trend of Wall Street.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—A large export business in Canadian barley featured trading today on the Winnipeg grain exchange. Sales were estimated at approximately 700,000 bushels, mainly to the United Kingdom.

Prices were mostly lower, reflecting declines in U.S. markets.

No information was available on overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat.

Lakehead prices for top grades of Class Two, IWA and domestic wheat were up ⅛ cent except Class Two durums which were unchanged.

Opening lead—♠ Q

The hand shown today, played in last year's national championships, comes to mind because this year's championships will begin just 10 days from now in Washington, D.C. This year's tournament is sure to produce its crop of interesting hands, some of which will stick in our memories like today's hand.

When the hand was played last year, most expert partnerships reached a contract of three no-trump by the bidding shown in the diagram. The opening bid of one no-trump shows balanced distribution, stoppers in at least three suits, and a count of 16 to 18 points. In this case, South has 17 points in high cards.

North can properly raise to two no-trump because his own count of eight points clearly brings the partnership very close to the 26 points usually needed for game. North's length in clubs is an additional partnership asset.

South might refuse the invitation to game if he had a bare 16 points, the minimum count for his opening bid. In this case, with 17 points, South can well afford to go on to game.

When the hand was played, not everybody made the game. Some players won the first spade trick with the king, led the queen of clubs to knock out the ace, and won the spade return with dummy's ace.

The king and jack of clubs cleared the suit, but now South had to win the fourth round of clubs with the eight. There was no way to get back to dummy for the fifth club, and South could develop only eight tricks.

A few experts foresaw that the clubs would block. If declarer had to use the three picture cards for the first three club tricks, it was only too clear that the fourth club trick would have to be won by one of the low cards in the South hand.

The successful experts unblocked the clubs by refusing the first spade trick. It was then easy to win the second spade, force out the ace of clubs, and then discard a club from the South hand on dummy's ace of spades.

After one club had been discarded from the South hand, it was easy to run the rest of the suit and still stay in the dummy. This line of play, therefore, easily produced nine tricks.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

By BILL PARKER

Televiewers who take an interest in tennis will be well advised to tune channel 2 at 9.30 p.m. Friday and at 10 p.m. Saturday.

On those two dates, the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will televise some of the action from the recent Davis Cup matches at the Toronto Cricket Club.

Friday evening will be devoted to the airing of last Friday's men's doubles matches between Canada and Chile and Saturday will cover the playing of the men's singles.

Canada, incidentally, won the matches, but then, if you know tennis, you already know that fact, and if you don't know tennis, chances are you don't care.

One of the most go-ahead radio stations in B.C. is a Vancouver independent outfit, CKWX.

The big city station is becoming a more and more familiar name as a prize-winner in national radio competitions.

"Why Do They Do It?", as was noted in this column some time ago, picked up an award in an eastern contest, and more recently, the same show and another 'WX production, "This Happened Today," received prizes from the Advertising Association of the West for public service broadcasting.

Rather a good record what!

CARROLL RIGHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—A.M., be sure not to alienate any family members by irritation, etc. Afternoon has chance to get out and have new contacts. P.M. suggests you devise better financial arrangements with others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Morning requires quietly attending duties without resentment; afternoon then has chance to handle financial affairs intelligently. P.M., refrain from arguing with determined bigot.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Until noon make sure you keep friendships intact by understanding attitude. Until sundown arrive at meeting of minds with partners. P.M., avoid tearing clothing, etc.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—A.M. has reputation endangered by upsetting, angering higher-up, so use tact. Until 6 p.m., make sure you work hard at routine regularities, after which be gentle with romantic tie.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)—Keep plugging away at your job while carefully acquiring data for future expansion. P.M., you can have lots of fun, good time, just so you take no chances with family members, what they expect of you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)—Be economical this a.m. despite attractive temptation to spend unwisely. Afternoon finds you getting lots done pertaining to long-range goals. Evening suggests tact at home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—Placate kindly, impatient, disturbed colleague who is apt to go off on a tangent; then show your sense of neat touch, fine finish, cleanliness during afternoon. P.M., get sensible budget system for future use.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—Tut! Tut! Anger with job you've willingly assumed brings trouble, damage a.m. You then have good chance afternoon to get property fixed up rightly. P.M., avoid depression by enjoying TV, movie, radio that amuses.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—Simple pleasures that are inexpensive early bring solace from tensions. Afternoon fine for health, beauty, charm interests. P.M., don't let feeling you are jinxed bother you. It's merely you need more rest tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 21)—Get out of house early to avoid likely a.m. tussle, trouble there. Until night falls you have shrewdness in regard to way to arrange future rightly. P.M., cheer up companion in low frame of mind.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—Hasty action today before you're really prepared takes away from successful completion. P.M. fine for going directly after your ambitions; avoid stirred-up, angered official.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Take no chances where your property is concerned, even though you think letting some of it go will enhance your pleasures. Afternoon arrange credit, public work. P.M., look for down-to-earth views.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY . . .

Thursday's child is one of those youngsters who has it in his or her power to acquire lots of information, knowledge and data of an unusual nature during early years that can be used to excellent, forceful, intelligent, successful advantage in productive years, which is most wise course of action, since in later years there will be a great desire to enjoy peacefully fruits of former efforts. So try to plan your progeny's life along this line as carefully as you can. Then a wonderful existence for your offspring unfolds.

Indo-China Peace Signed

earlier than one year from today and not less than two years, are supposed to reunite the divided country. But Western officials here generally conceded that the "temporary" partition line probably will become a political and ideological frontier like those which split Germany and Korea.

Officials said the texts of the agreements will not be published for several days, but their contents already are generally known.

Civilians on either side of the partition line will have one year to move to the other side if they desire.

The French have the next 300 days to move out of the big northern cities of Hanoi and Haiphong. Until that day next May they will hold an enclave in the Red river delta around those two major centres.

Cambodia and Laos will remain under their French-supported royal governments. Viet Minh troops which have invaded their territory, an estimated 10,000 in Laos, fewer in Cambodia, will withdraw in 60 days.

Final Cease-Fire in About Week

For military security reasons, the date for the end of hostilities was not announced. One Viet Nam official said, however, that cease-fire orders should become effective in a week for the regular forces on both sides. Guerrilla fighters in the jungles and mountains would be given a longer period.

The partition line across Viet Nam runs along the Song Ben Hair river. It leaves highway No. 9, a principal road leading from the coast across the country to Laos, in the hands of southern Viet Nam. The south also retains the major port of Tourane and ex-emperor Bao Dai's royal capital, Hue, both in central Viet Nam.

Cambodia did not join in the early-morning armistice ceremony because of a last-minute burst of independence on the part of her delegation. Tep Phan, Cambodian foreign minister, demanded until nearly 2 a.m. that his courts be permitted to try Communist sympathizers for working with the Vietminh invaders.

He agreed to drop the demand after the issue was ironed out in a long session with Mendes-France, Foreign Minister Molotov and Foreign Secretary Eden.

The armistices for Viet Nam and Laos cover the area where most of the Indo-China battling took place. There was little fighting in Cambodia.

During the 300 more days the French hold Hanoi and Haiphong, the Viet Minh will hold five pockets south of the partition line. Then they must pull out for the north.

Neither side may bring in troops or war material, and no new military bases can be set up on either side of the line.

U.S. Plans Separate Declaration

This prohibition applies particularly to any bases for the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO), which the United States and Britain are proposing to check any future Communist aggression in this area. However, the organization, once formed, is expected to bring southern Viet Nam, Cambodia and Laos under its protective wing.

The U.S. government had decided not to join in the general declaration which the other conference delegations were to issue later today taking note of the agreement terms. Instead, the U.S. planned a separate declaration, noting the terms with which it agreed but ignoring officially those of which it disapproved.

The Viet Namese government shared the U.S. attitude. One Viet Namese official called newspaper correspondents as the signing was about to begin and emphasized that no official of the Viet Nam government was taking part in or even observing the ceremony.

A proposed three-power neutral armistice commission, headed by India and including Canada and Poland, is expected to supervise the carrying out of the armistice agreements. Any issues which might lead to resumption of hostilities must be settled unanimously. Other cases can be decided by a majority.

LABOR ORGANIZATION

The International Labor Organization was set up in 1919 under the peace treaties concluding the First World War.

NAVIGABLE WATERS PROTECTION ACT

R.S.C. 1927, CHAPTER 140

Sidney Roofing & Paper Company Limited hereby give notice that they have, under Section 7 of the said act, deposited with the Minister of Public Works at Ottawa, and in the office of the District Registrar of the Land Registry District of Victoria, at Victoria, B.C., a description of the site and the plans of tank installations and pondage walls proposed to be built in the Victoria Harbor at Victoria, B.C., in those parts of Sub-Lots Twenty-five (25) and Twenty-six (26) Lot One Hundred and Nineteen (119), Esquimalt District, B.C., Land Registry Office Plan 3237, lying below High Water Mark of said Victoria Harbor.

AND TAKE NOTICE that after the expiration of One (1) month from the date of the first publication of this notice, Sidney Roofing & Paper Company Limited will, under Section 7 of the said act, apply to the Minister of Public Works at his office in the City of Ottawa, for approval of the said site and plans.

DATED this twelfth day of July, 1954.

ISLAND ROADS

Fisher Road will also be widened.

Other Esquimalt appropriations include $132,000 for maintenance of secondary roads and bridges, and $50,000 for replacement of Jacob Creek Bridge and Piadjo Bridge. Jacob Creek is nearing completion.

HARD-SURFACING

In Saanich district, hard-surfacing will be carried out on East Saanich Road in Central Saanich, West Saanich Road and Wains Crossroad.

Lands End Road, started last year, will be completed, and shoulders built up on the Pat Bay Highway. Saanich will receive $78,500 in road maintenance and improvements.

Replacement of the Swartz Bay ferry landing will cost $105,000.

Widening and hard-surfacing of Yellow Point Road and the North Shore Road on Cowichan Lake are the two largest projects planned for Cowichan-Newcastle area.

A $48,000 appropriation has been made also for hard-surfacing of the Trans-Canada Highway south of the Nanaimo-Islands district boundary.

Paldi, Glenora, Miller and Indian Roads are also due for hard-surfacing.

HIGHWAY WIDENING

Cowichan Lake South Shore Road will be extended to Camp 8, while extensive widening of the Island Highway to Tzouhalem Road is planned. Cowichan Bay Road will see shoulder and widening work carried out.

In Nanaimo-Islands, hard-surfacing is planned for 1.42 miles north of the district boundary on the Trans-Canada Highway; three miles on Ganges, Fulford Road, Salt Spring Island, and two miles on subdivision roads in the Five Acres district.

A $282,000 appropriation is entered for completion of the Millstone Bridge. Jingle Pot Road will be graveled and widened for two miles. Fulford-Ganges Road will be reconstructed for one mile.

$161,000 JOB

Largest single project in Comox district is hard-surfacing of the Island Highway for 11.75 miles between Oyster River and Campbell River. This project will cost $161,000. This stretch will also be reconstructed.

Other Island Highway work in the Comox district is scheduled between Elk Falls-Mill Bay Road and Seymour Lookout, Hammond Bay, Sayward, Singing Sands, Lazo, Little River, Back, Briadwood, Dove Creek, and Lazo-Kye Bay Roads willl also receive appropriations.

In Alberni, $170,000 will be spent on replacement of Sproat Falls Bridge, while hard-surfacing will be carried out on Lake Shore Road, Beaver Creek Road and Faber Road.

Young Farmers From Washington Visiting Saanich

A dozen farm youngsters from Sequim, Wash., were scheduled to arrive in Victoria this afternoon to spend two days as guests of the Saanich 4H Dairy Calf Club.

The visitors were being met at the CPR wharf to be taken on a sight-seeing tour and to visit Saanich dairy farms.

Later, the Sequim and Saanich youngsters were to participate in a judging competition at Ralph Rendle's Stanhope Dairy.

Later this summer, a group of Saanich youngsters will visit Sequim and be guests of the 4H Club there.

Three City Teachers Going to Britain On Exchange Posts

Three Victoria school teachers will be among 54 Canadians sailing for Britain between July 23 and Aug. 20 for a year's teaching overseas.

The three are Miss Margaret McCurrach of Oaklands, Miss Kathleen Porter of Margaret Jenkins, and Mrs. Kathryn B. Davidson of Bank Street.

They will each be replaced for the coming school term by teachers from Britain.

The annual exchange was started some years ago to promote better understanding and a stronger link between the two countries.

UNCLE TOM, 101, DIES —MARRIED 80 YEARS

WHITNEY, Tex. (AP)—"Uncle Tom" Rose, 101, is dead, just a little more than a year after his wife's death ended what was believed to be the longest marriage in the United States.

Uncle Tom died Sunday in the same little house near Whitney where he and Aunt Easter had lived 58 years.

When she died, on June 9, 1953, the couple had been married 80 years. They were believed then to have been married longer than any living couple in the United States.

Tolmie Playground Festival Friday

Festival spirit will prevail at Tolmie Park Friday, when the annual carnival will be held on the playground at 7.30 p.m.

Chairman F. K. Brawn announces tombola prizes, bingo, BB shots, a stake game, home-cooking and pocket novel stalls, and all the usual refreshments will be provided.

The same evening, Rudd Park will hold a coat hanger, paper and rag drive, and will canvass the park area for contributions to the drive. Information may be obtained from R. Parkinson at 2-6983. Proceeds go towards park activities.

GALLUP POLL OF CANADA

One in Four Says Cancer Brought on by Cigarettes

By Canadian Institute of Public Opinion

Is lung cancer linked to cigarette smoking? If the Canadian people could be lined up for their opinion, says the Gallup Poll, this is what would happen:

One-quarter would say: "Yes, we think it is."

One-quarter would say: "Can't say. Have no opinion."

Half would say: "No, there is no connection," or give qualified answers.

A similar study made by the American Institute of Public Opinion of what the U.S. public think shows that a much higher proportion of the people connect lung cancer and cigarette smoking in that country than in Canada.

Question put to the people by the Canadian and American Polls was the same:

"What is your own opinion: Do you think cigarette smoking is one of the causes of lung cancer or not,"

Comparisons between national points of view of both sides of the border are shown below:

	Canada	U.S.
Yes, causes lung cancer	25%	41%
No, does not cause it	34	29
Qualified	16
Undecided	25	30
	100%	100%

Measurement of the "qualified" answers by the Canadian Poll showed that a great many people think it is a matter of the amount of smoking done. Repeatedly citizens said "Yes—if an excessive smoker"; "If a chain smoker"; "If inhales."

Before asking citizens what their own personal opinion of the controversy was, the Gallup Poll interviewers first checked the public's knowledge by asking:

"Have you heard or read anything recently that cigarette smoking may be a cause of cancer of the lung?"

General interest is shown in the fact that nearly nine in ten of the Canadian people knew of the facts.

Yes, have heard	89%
No, have not heard	11
	100%

Greatest interest in the news story was shown in the Maritimes, where 94 per cent of the people knew of the controversy, and on the Prairies, where 93 per cent were informed. Least interest was in Quebec Province, where 82 per cent had heard or read of the connection.

In the U.S., the Poll has found that "heavy" smokers—those who smoke a pack a day or more—are most inclined to believe that there is no connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

IBEW Here Requests LRB Conciliation

Victoria Local 230 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL-TLC) has applied to the Labor Relations Board for conciliation in negotiations for a new contract for local employees of Hume & Rumble Ltd.

The request was made by business agent Charles Peck, following an earlier protest of the use of separate conciliation boards for a dispute with a single company by two union locals.

"In the past the practice was to have the two locals come under one board. When the question of one board was raised before a conciliation board for Vancouver Local 213, I believe the employer said he would apply any agreed changes to Local 213 to the Victoria local," Mr. Peck said.

Mr. Peck said he thought the present situation had arisen "as it appears the employer was not prepared to bargain in good faith and thus is guilty of unfair labor practices."

How Long Will Ho Cho Minh Keep the Truce Line?

Larry Allen, Pulitzer Prize correspondent of the Associated Press, covered the Indo-China war for more than two years from Saigon and Hanoi. Recently he went to Singapore where he could write without regard to censorship.

BY LARRY ALLEN

SINGAPORE (AP)—Peace is coming to Indo-China by the simple device of splitting Viet Nam in two. That leaves millions of persons under Red rule, unless they choose to flee, and raises the question of just how long Ho Chi Minh will be content with just northern Indo-China.

With the cease-fire line drawn near the 17th parallel, about half of Indo-China's 26,000,000 people and the big rice bowl of the Red river delta with its tremendous resources of salt, coal, iron, phosphates and cement will fall under Red control.

The Vietminh also get the "Maginot line" of Indo-China, the long network of concrete—reinforced, heavily gunned bunkers atop the mountains around Tien Yen, 40 miles southwest of Moncay. The line was finished two years ago to repel any Chinese or massive Viet-Minh attack toward the seaport of Haiphong.

This is not all. The Vietminh also get what they might call "victory." Ever since the war started every French commander has said—and Western diplomats and even the Vietminh have agreed—that "whoever holds the Red river delta holds all of Indo-China. As the delta goes so goes Southeast Asia."

GETS THE DELTA

Under the cease-fire the Vietminh will get the delta. The cease-fire provides that the French evacuate enclaves covering the cities of Hanoi and Haiphong within 300 days. How long Ho Chi Minh might contain himself within the truce line is anybody's guess—unless further Communist moves are stopped by a new Southeast Asia security alliance or similar arrangement.

But Viet Nam leaders do not believe Ho Chi Minh will stay long put. Nguyen Huu Tri, until recently governor of north Viet Nam, once told correspondents in Hanoi: "even if one province is given to Ho Chi Minh as the price of peace he will take all of the country as soon as he can."

Back of the inability of the war-weary French to score a decisive victory in the long war lies the big factor of non-co-operation from the Viet Namese masses. The hearts and sympathies of the most Viet Namese have always been with Ho, who never lost his identity as a symbol fighting for his country's independence from France.

Florence Chadwick's Day

Hi! We were talking about television the other day, and for some reason I started thinking about my old TV pal, Muggsy.

Muggsy isn't a gangster or a boxer, as his name might imply. He's a chimpanzee and a highly intelligent one, at that.

The little fellow is part of an experiment in that he is being brought up exactly like a human child. He wears children's clothes, sleeps in a proper bed, feeds himself at a table, using knife and fork; plays a saxophone and obeys orders perfectly. You may have seen him on Dave Garroway's program.

The last time I saw Muggsy was when I appeared on the Fred Allen show. Muggsy had to make three or four fast costume changes and like a small child, he became fussy and started fidgeting and whining.

One of his handlers lost patience and gave Muggsy a little slap on the face. The poor little fellow looked at the handler and his eyes filled with tears. He cried just like a little baby, putting his face in his hands.

A little while later, someone told him to "say hello to Florence." He came up to me, put his arms around me and gave me a big hug.

★ ★ ★

Speaking of television, I believe I hold a couple of TV records.

The first one, I doubt if it will ever be broken, was an 18-hour appearance without speaking one word. That was when they televised me swimming Catalina Channel. No talk, no commercials, just swimming.

The other record was when I appeared on 19 different programs in one day.

It was in aid of the Herald-Tribune Fresh Air Fund, that raises money to send underprivileged children to summer camps. I would appear on one show, hop a cab over to another studio and make another appearance. I started with Arthur Godfrey at 9 a.m. and wound it up at 3 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Once when I was on Ken Murray's show, he got a little flustered and said, "Thank you, Gertrude Ederle."

Being just a little peeved, I said, "You're welcome, Milton Berle."

$3 Million for Island Roads

Gaglardi Reveals Big Program For Highway, Bridge Building

Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi today revealed details of a $3,200,000 highway program for Vancouver Island.

In an exclusive report to the Victoria Times, Mr. Gaglardi outlined the complete 1954-55 road-building plans prepared by the provincial works department.

Alberni—$332,000.
Comox—$744,868.
Cowichan-Newcastle—$368,419.
Esquimalt—$374,578.
Saanich—$244,000.
Nanaimo-Islands—$637,840.

Some $500,000 of the total is reserved for construction of two underpasses near the Thetis Lake cut-off on the new Island Highway outlet, and construction of the Colquitz River bridge on the Trans-Canada Highway.

In addition, 15 miles of roadwork on the Island Highway in the Ladysmith-Nanaimo, and Burnside-Goldstream areas is underway, and tenders will be let Friday for another 4.41 miles in the Nanaimo-Wellington area.

ESQUIMALT WORK

Esquimalt riding will get hard-surfacing on Fisher Road, Cobble Hill Road, south; Aral, Kelly, Suhsit and Goodrich Roads and Skookum Gulch Revision West Coast Road.

On Gillespie Road, appropriation has been made for removal of dangerous corners, graveling of 3¾ miles and repair of CNR overpass. Renfrew Road will receive an $8,000 gravel face-lifting; Metchosin Road will be reconstructed for one mile, and Rocky Point Road will be reconstructed for 2.5 miles between Kangaroo Road and East Sooke Road.

Wednesday Store Opening Riles Butcher

Vancouver Man Defies New Law

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Bert Robinson, operator of two downtown butcher stores, vowed he would keep his shops open all day today "unless I'm forcibly lugged off to jail."

Robinson's action came as all-day Wednesday shopping started in most of Vancouver's large department stores, closed Wednesdays since 1942.

Butcher shops were not eligible to remain open all day today because the majority of them did not petition city council for six-day shopping. They were allowed to be open only Wednesday mornings under present regulations.

Robinson said he would make a test case of the issue.

He said he was in competition with downtown department stores "and if they are going to stay open I should be able to."

SEAWAY POWER DWARFED?

Rothschilds Interested In $1 Billion Project

LONDON (CP) — The House of Rothschild, famed British banking firm, confirmed today that it is investigating the possibilities of constructing a huge power plant at Grand Falls, Labrador.

A spokesman for the 180-year-old firm said surveys are being made at Grand Falls on the Hamilton River, roughly 550 miles northeast of Quebec City.

The investigations are being conducted by the British Newfoundland Corporation, a 1½-year-old firm based at St John's. The corporation is backed by a group of British banks and industrial firms, headed by N. M. Rothschild and Sons.

The spokesman said the corporation has a concession for power development at Grand Falls from the Newfoundland government, and holds certain mineral and timber rights in Labrador.

He declined to estimate the cost of the project but said it is hoped that between 1,000,000 and 3,000,000 horsepower can be harnessed.

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Star said Tuesday that construction of the world's largest power development is in prospect for Labrador.

The paper quotes Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the International Joint Commission, as saying the development at Grand Falls would have an installed capacity of 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 horsepower. This compares with estimates of 1,100,000 horsepower Ontario expects from its St. Lawrence River development. Cost may run to $1 billion.

Judge Rules Out Sensational Evidence at Trial

PERCE, Que. (CP)—Sensational evidence, which resulted in a perjury charge against one witness, was ruled inadmissible before a jury today in the murder trial of Wilbert Coffin.

Mr. Justice Gerard Lacroix ruled that no testimony given Tuesday by Jean-Guy Hamel, described by police as a self-styled private detective, and two officers of the Quebec provincial police could be admitted into court as evidence before a jury.

Hamel, 29, swore in the witness box Tuesday that he did not give police information regarding the case of Coffin, charged in connection with the gruesome deaths of three Pennsylvania bear hunters in the Gaspe wilderness a year ago. He was charged with perjury almost immediately.

U.S. Stands Aloof From Peace Signing

Big Evacuation Job Faces French

With the signing of the cease-fire in Indo-China France faces job of evacuating an estimated 100,000 civilians and thousands of troops. Among soldiers to be evacuated will be the 22nd Algerian Tirailleurs, shown above on their recent arrival in the war theatre.

7-Year War Ends In Quiet Ceremony

From UP and AP Dispatches

GENEVA — France and the Communists signed a cease-fire for Indo-China today, with the United States standing coldly aloof on the sidelines.

U.S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith refused to sign a nine-nation declaration setting forth terms of the agreement designed to end the eight-year war in Indo-China as quickly as the Reds can notify all their scattered units—expected in 10 days.

The U.S. under-secretary reiterated the U.S. pledge that it will "refrain from the threat or use of force to disturb" the agreement, but making clear U.S. dissatisfaction, he said:

"The United States reiterates its traditional position that peoples are entitled to determine their own future and that it will not join in an arrangement which would hinder this."

The cease-fire will leave the world without a "hot" war for the first time in 20 years.

The agreement successfully climaxed French Premier and Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France's pledge to end the conflict in 30 days from the time he took office and France rejoiced at the end of the long, bloody and costly conflict.

The Communists were openly jubilant over an unquestioned Red victory, and Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill cabled his congratulations to Britain's Anthony Eden for his mediation efforts. The British believed the terms were the best obtainable.

But Smith's attitude was cold.

"As I stated on July 18, my government is not prepared to join in a declaration by the conference such as submitted," Smith said.

Reds Attack French Defense Post

In Washington, President Eisenhower told a press conference the United States will not use force to upset the Indo China cease fire, although it contains "features which we do not like."

In Indo-China itself, the Reds launched a major battle today at the French defense post of Chu Buoi, 13 miles south of Tourane, the atom-bomber and naval base below the cease-fire line. French forces beat back the 1,600 Red attackers in a five-hour fight which may prove the last major encounter of the war.

But Communist military leader said the fighting will go on, in isolated pockets, for as much as 10 days. It will take that long, they said, to notify isolated units in remote areas that the war has ended.

The East-West agreements will neutralize a divided Viet Nam and prevent the establishment of foreign military bases in Laos or Cambodia.

Final terms of the agreements were published here today at the final session of the nine-station conference after 75 days of exhaustive negotiations. Separate cease-fires for Viet Nam, the main battleground for the last eight years, Laos and Cambodia were signed earlier in the morning.

The declaration embodying the final terms did not specifically employ the term "neutralization." It revealed, however, that the Communist and democratic halves of Viet Nam will not be permitted to join any military alliances or agree to the establishment of foreign military bases on their soil.

Gen. Smith told the final session that his government would regard any renewal of aggression in violation of the Indo-China settlement "with grave concern and as seriously threatening international peace and security."

Smith submitted a unilateral declaration separate from the agreements reached by the other eight conference participants—Britain, France, Russia, Communist China, the Vietminh Communists, Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia.

British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, who presided at the final session, said the agreements were "the best that our hands could devise" and added "all will now depend upon the spirit in which those agreements are observed and carried out."

Viet Nam Divided Pending Vote

The agreements divide Viet Nam at its 40-mile waist roughly along the 17th parallel pending elections throughout the state within two years.

Like Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia are forbidden to have foreign military bases on their soil. They are also barred from joining any military alliances "which do not conform with the United Nations charter."

The final settlement said French forces will be allowed to remain in all three states unless any of the governments ask for their withdrawal.

A brief French declaration promised at the same time that France would observe the territorial independence, sovereignty and integrity of all three Indo-China states.

For Premier Mendes-France, the settlement represented a tremendous triumph. He had lived up to his pledge on taking office June 18 to gain peace by July 20 or quit.

With power unmatched since Gen. Charles de Gaulle ruled the wartime coalition, Mendes-France is now in a position to push through sorely needed economic reforms in France as well as lead his wavering nation to a decision on the European Army next month.

No sooner had the cease-fires been signed this morning than the chief conference delegates began centring their attention on the problem of Europe.

Mendes-France, in a farewell visit to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov, was reported to have discussed European security. Later, Smith called a meeting with Eden and the French premier to discuss various European issues.

The cease-fire agreements for Viet Nam and Laos were signed before dawn today. A last-minute technical hitch prevented the Cambodia truce from being signed until later in the morning.

This morning's simple signing ceremony, under a blaze of photographers' lights in the home of the League of Nations, called a halt to an eight-year war of blood and sweat in which 92,000 soldiers of the French Union expeditionary corps died or disappeared.

It also laid a Korea-like partition across the 42-mile-wide waist of Viet Nam, Indo-China's largest, richest and most populous state, about at the 17th parallel of latitude.

Communist leader Ho Chi Minh will take over the destinies of the residents north of the line. The 10,000,000 Viet Namese south of the partition will live under the pro-Western regime of chief of state Bao Dai.

City Opinion Split on Pact In Indo-China

Peace Hailed But Prestige Seen Lost

Victorians contacted today on reactions to the cease-fire pact in Indo-China showed a sound grasp of the issues involved, but expressed sharply opposed views as to the ultimate outcome of that country's partition between France and the Communists.

Following are sample statements:

ROBERT STEWART, summer school student, 2115 Fernwood: "I think the compromise in Indo-China was a distant loss to western prestige, but I'm glad to see the war ended. People everywhere are sick and tired of fighting."

KULDEEP SINGH, travel bureau manager, 2630-A Douglas: "I think the peace pact is a very good thing, but fail to see why there couldn't have been peace there long before this. What a waste of money and blood. It is the best news of the year."

BETTY SMITH, beauty parlor operator, 833½ Fort: "It's about time the people had a government they want. There was too much colonialism in Indo-China, as elsewhere. France should have pulled out of there a long time ago. The west has poured money into aiding France there, but what would they do for us if we were in a spot?"

REV. W. LEMMENS, St. Andrew's Cathedral: "There is no doubt that partition there is a defeat of the west at Communist hands. The Geneva group had no right to sacrifice the people there to a Red regime (by partition) when they have trusted in France for so many years."

MISS ELSA NIELSEN, nurse, 1340 Sussex Street: "When the end of fighting comes I always feel happy. As a nurse I see too much suffering as it is."

SINCE ETHIOPIAN INVASION

World Is Free of Wars First Time in 20 Years

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The end of the shooting in Indo-China will mark one of the few periods that the world has been free of full-scale war since Dec. 9, 1934, when Mussolini's Italian troops clashed with Ethiopian soldiers on the frontier of disputed Somaliland.

By the time the Ethiopian fighting ended May 5, 1936, Hitler had broken the Locarno Pact by sending troops into the demilitarized Rhineland. The Spanish Civil War raged from July 17, 1936, until March 28, 1939. Elsewhere in Europe, Nazi troops already were on the march. Germany declared war on Poland Sept. 1, 1939, and the Second World War was on.

Ho Chi Minh's Communist-led Vietminh forces rose against the French garrison at Hanoi Dec. 19, 1946, touching off the Indo-China war only 12 days before peace with the Axis Powers was proclaimed.

There is still not full peace. Mounting unrest in North Africa has forced France to rush troop reinforcements to Tunisia and Red-led guerrillas fight on against the British in Malaya.

'Feature We Do Not Like'—Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, commenting on the Indo-China cease-fire agreement, said today he does not believe the Communists want war at this time.

Eisenhower said in a formal statement at his press conference the agreement "contains features which we do not like but a great deal depends on how they work in practice."

He said the United States is working actively with other free nations to organize rapidly a "collective defense in Southeast Asia in order to prevent further direct or indirect Communist aggression in that general area."

'Overcame Many Difficulties'—Eden

GENEVA (Reuters)—British Foreign Secretary Eden told the final session of the Indo-China conference today that the agreements on a cease-fire were "the best that our hands could devise."

"All will now depend upon the spirit in which those agreements are observed and carried out," Eden, who was presiding, declared.

"We have now come to the end of our work.

"For a number of reasons it has been prolonged and intricate. The co-operation which all delegations have given to your two chairmen—Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov shared the chairmanship with Eden—has enabled us to overcome many procedural difficulties. Without that co-operation we could not have succeeded in our task.

"The agreements concluded today could not in the nature of things give complete satisfaction to everyone."

Ask Delay in Applying Cease-Fire

HANIO, Indo-China (AP)—Reliable reports reaching here today said the Indo-Chinese Communists have asked for three to 10 days delay in applying the Indo-China cease-fire.

The Reds were said to have told the French it will take that long to advise their scattered troops to stop shooting.

Warns Against Cutting Aid to Asia

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) warned Congress today against cutting U.S. aid to Southeast Asia just because of the new truce in Indo-China.

He said the "Munich" settlement opens the way for more Red conquests and "sharpens up the need" for assisting other nations to build the free world's defenses.

Canada Still Awaits Formal Invitation

OTTAWA (BUP)—A formal invitation to Canada to join India and Poland in an international supervisory commission for Indo-China still was awaited today and a cabinet meeting was called for Thursday.

It's about time one of our cops scored a decision over a citizen.

Vancouver Trawler Missing Month

VANCOUVER (CP)—RCAF search and rescue squadrons today issued a general alarm to all fishing boats following a report that a 40-foot trawler with one man aboard has been missing for nearly a month.

The trawler Gamble, with skipper Oscar Tuura of Vancouver aboard, was last heard from June 24.

The vessel was believed to have been fishing in the South Hecate Strait at the time.

Mix-Up May Upset Liquor Vote

Court action aimed at upsetting the Dawson City liquor vote last June 23 was begun here today by John Alvin, a trucker.

He claims a mix-up in the list gave votes to non-residents.

Dawson Creek approved beer parlors but rejected other types of outlets. Cocktail bars failed by three-hundredths of a percentage point.

Bakeries to Review Strike

VANCOUVER (CP) — Operators involved in the two-weeks-old strike and lockout of major Vancouver bakeries will meet Thursday to "review the entire situation," a spokesman said today.

This was the only new development in the dispute which appears to be settling down to a long period of union and management waiting each other out.

Lorne Main Beaten by Chilean

TORONTO (CP)—Lorne Main of Toronto and Vancouver, top-seeded Canadian, was knocked out in the fourth round of the Canadian tennis championships here today by Andres Hammersley of Chile.

Hammersley, No. 7 in the foreign seedings, upset Main, who is a mainstay in Canada's Davis Cup team, 6-4, 6-2, in a fourth-round match.

Suez Talks Run Into Trouble

CAIRO, Egypt (UP) — The 11-day-old Anglo-Egyptian talks on British evacuation of the Suez Canal zone were reported today to be running into trouble.

The early optimism of Egyptian officials was rapidly giving way to serious concern.

The worried officials complained of British delay in giving a prompt and full answer to Egyptian counter-proposals on the points still at issue.

Skinner to Coach Red Wings

DETROIT (AP)—Jim Skinner, an unknown in big league hockey circles, today was given one of the game's biggest jobs — coach of the National Hockey League champion Detroit Red Wings.

The 37-year-old Skinner, a coach in the Red Wings farm system, replaces Tommy Ivan, who departed to become general manager of Chicago Black Hawks, leaving behind a brilliant record of six straight NHL championships and three Stanley Cup titles.

Man Held in Saskatchewan Murder

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (BUP)—The Royal Canadian Mounted Police today were holding David Froese, who they said surrendered to the Nipawin detachment, in connection with the murder of a farmer near Carrot River, Sask., Tuesday.

Police said Henry Boschmac, 44, father of seven, was shot through the head with a .22-calibre rifle.

Carrot River is about 90 miles east of here.

Wednesday Store Opening Riles Butcher

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Bert Robinson, operator of two downtown butcher stores, vowed he would keep his shops open all day today "unless I'm forcibly lugged off to jail."

Robinson's action came as all-day Wednesday shopping started in most of Vancouver's large department stores, closed Wednesdays since 1942.

Butcher shops were not eligible to remain open all day today because the majority of them did not petition city council for six-day shopping. They were allowed to be open only Wednesday mornings under present regulations.

Robinson said he would make a test case of the issue.

He said he was in competition with downtown department stores "and if they are going to stay open I should be able to."

Gaglardi Reveals Plans For Highways, Bridges

Public Works Minister P. A. Gaglardi today revealed details of a $3,200,000 highway program for Vancouver Island.

In an exclusive report to the Victoria Times, Mr. Gaglardi outlined the complete 1954-55 road-building plans prepared by the provincial works department.

Alberni—$332,000.
Comox—$744,868.
Cowichan-Newcastle—$368,419.
Esquimalt—$374,578.
Saanich—$24[illegible],000.
Nanaimo-Islands—$637,840.

Some $500,000 of the total is reserved for construction of two underpasses near the Thetis Lake cut-off on the new Island Highway outlet, and construction of the Colquitz River bridge on the Trans-Canada Highway.

In addition, 15 miles of road-work on the Island Highway in the Ladysmith-Nanaimo, and Burnside-Goldstream areas is underway, and tenders will be let Friday for another 4.41 miles in the Nanaimo-Wellington area.

Esquimalt riding will get hard-surfacing on Fisher Road, Cobble Hill Road, south; Aral, Kelly, Sunsit and Goodrich Roads and Skookum Gulch Revision, West Coast Road.

On Gillespie Road, appropriation has been made for removal of dangerous corners, graveling of 3¾ miles and repair of CNR overpass. Renfrew Road will receive an $8,000 gravel face-lifting; Metchosin Road will be reconstructed for one mile, and Rocky Point Road will be reconstructed for 2.5 miles between Kangaroo Road and East Sooke Road.

France should have pulled out of there a long time ago. The west has poured money into aiding France there, but what would they do for us if we were in a spot?"

REV. W. LEMMENS, St. Andrew's Cathedral: "There is no doubt that partition there is a defeat of the west at Communist hands. The Geneva group had no right to sacrifice the people there to a Red regime (by partition) when they have trusted in France for so many years."

MISS ELSA NIELSEN, nurse, 1340 Sussex Street: "When the end of fighting comes I always feel happy. As a nurse I see too much suffering as it is."

JUST ANOTHER WORRY FOR SALLY

Seal With Tire Neckpiece Becomes Expectant Mother

HUGH TOWN, Scilly Isles (AP) — Observers reported today that Sally, the seal with an aircraft tire around her neck, is expecting a baby.

Inspectors of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals told reporters Sally probably will have her cub in October.

They have been trying for more than three weeks to catch her and cut her loose from her constricting neckband. In view of the approaching blessed event, Inspector Jim Greenhalgh said, the need of rescue now is more pressing than ever.

Greenhalgh and a helper followed Sally in a launch for more than an hour Monday in the hope of driving her into shallow waters where she could be netted. Sally—tire, approaching motherhood and all — was too agile for them, and finally outdistanced the boat.

The unfortunate seal was first seen by Scilly Isles fishermen in St. Mary's Bay last month. How she acquired the tire is unknown.
